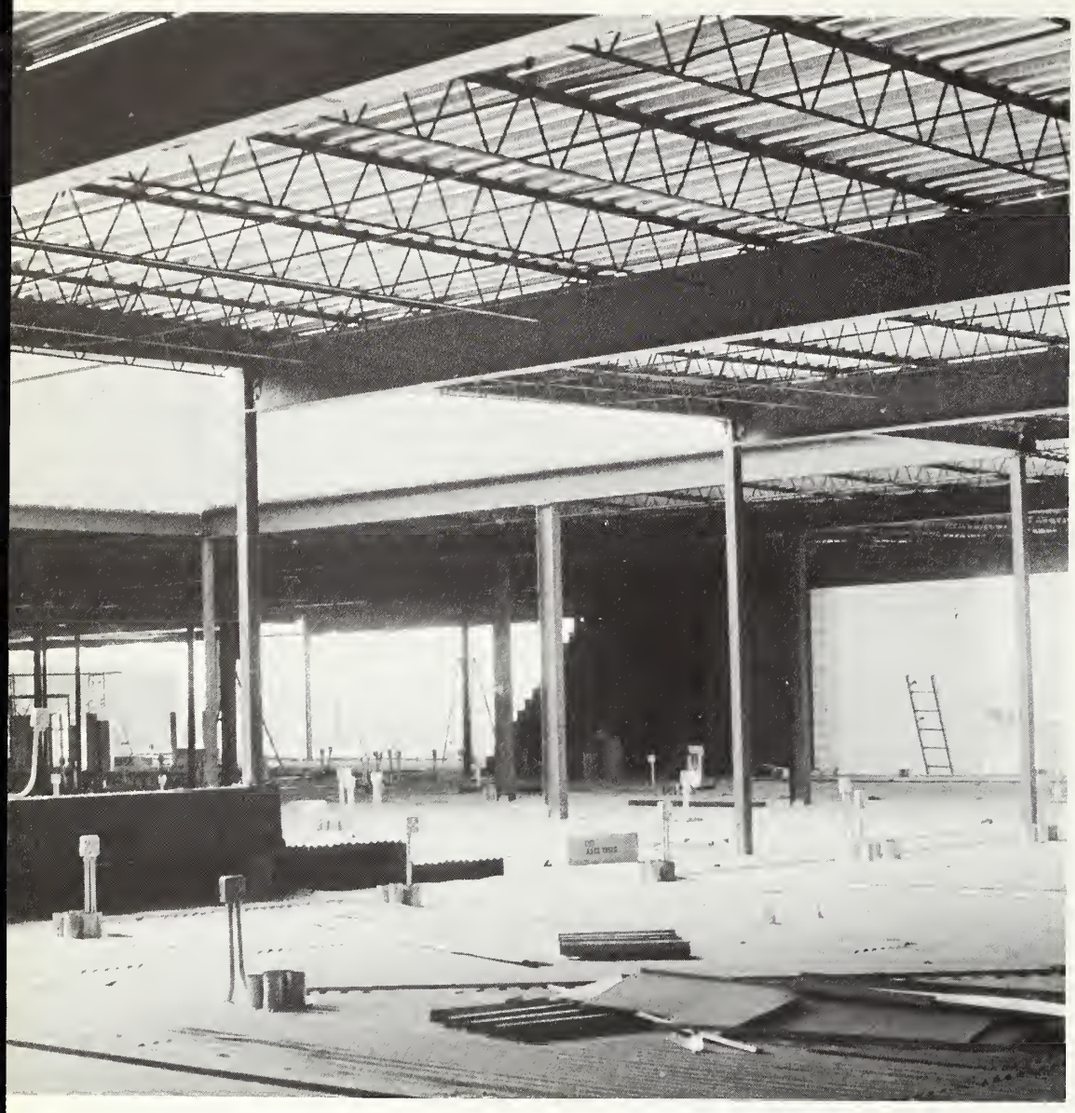
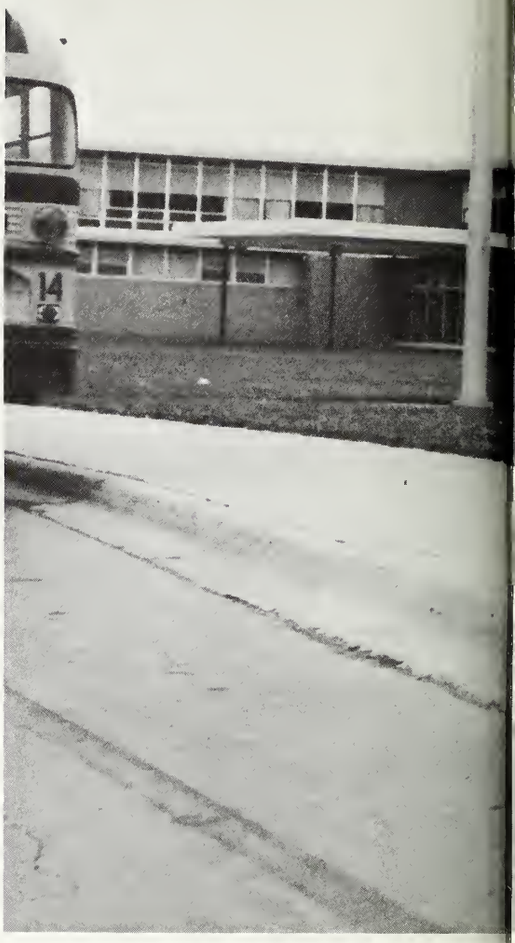
WARREN CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL
INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA VOLUME 32





Although the building stood untouched for most of the summer because of a labor strike, construction on the mass project resumed early in the fall. Sights such as this were common to the Warren students throughout the school year.

Although throughout the year the addition to the school was completed only in a sketch, Warrenites were proud of the progress shown. They adapted quickly to makeshift classrooms and the sounds of construction around them.

Many girls at Warren became active in the Girls' Athletic Association due to the lack of girls' sports teams. Archery was one of the more popular activities of the club along with other sports and games that taught coordination and skill.

In the fall, Warrenites' Friday nights were highlighted by the weekly football game, where they joined the crowd to see what everyone was wearing, to see who people were with, to yell with the cheerleaders and to watch the team battle in another game.

Dramatics, Speech Classes Are Light Side

Above: "Please, oh, please!" begs Senior Nancy Dorsey as Junior Doug Godme and Sophomore Marilyn Breeden rehearse a skit they will present before their dramatics class.

Of Curriculum

English has always been an important part of our world because of its universal use throughout life.

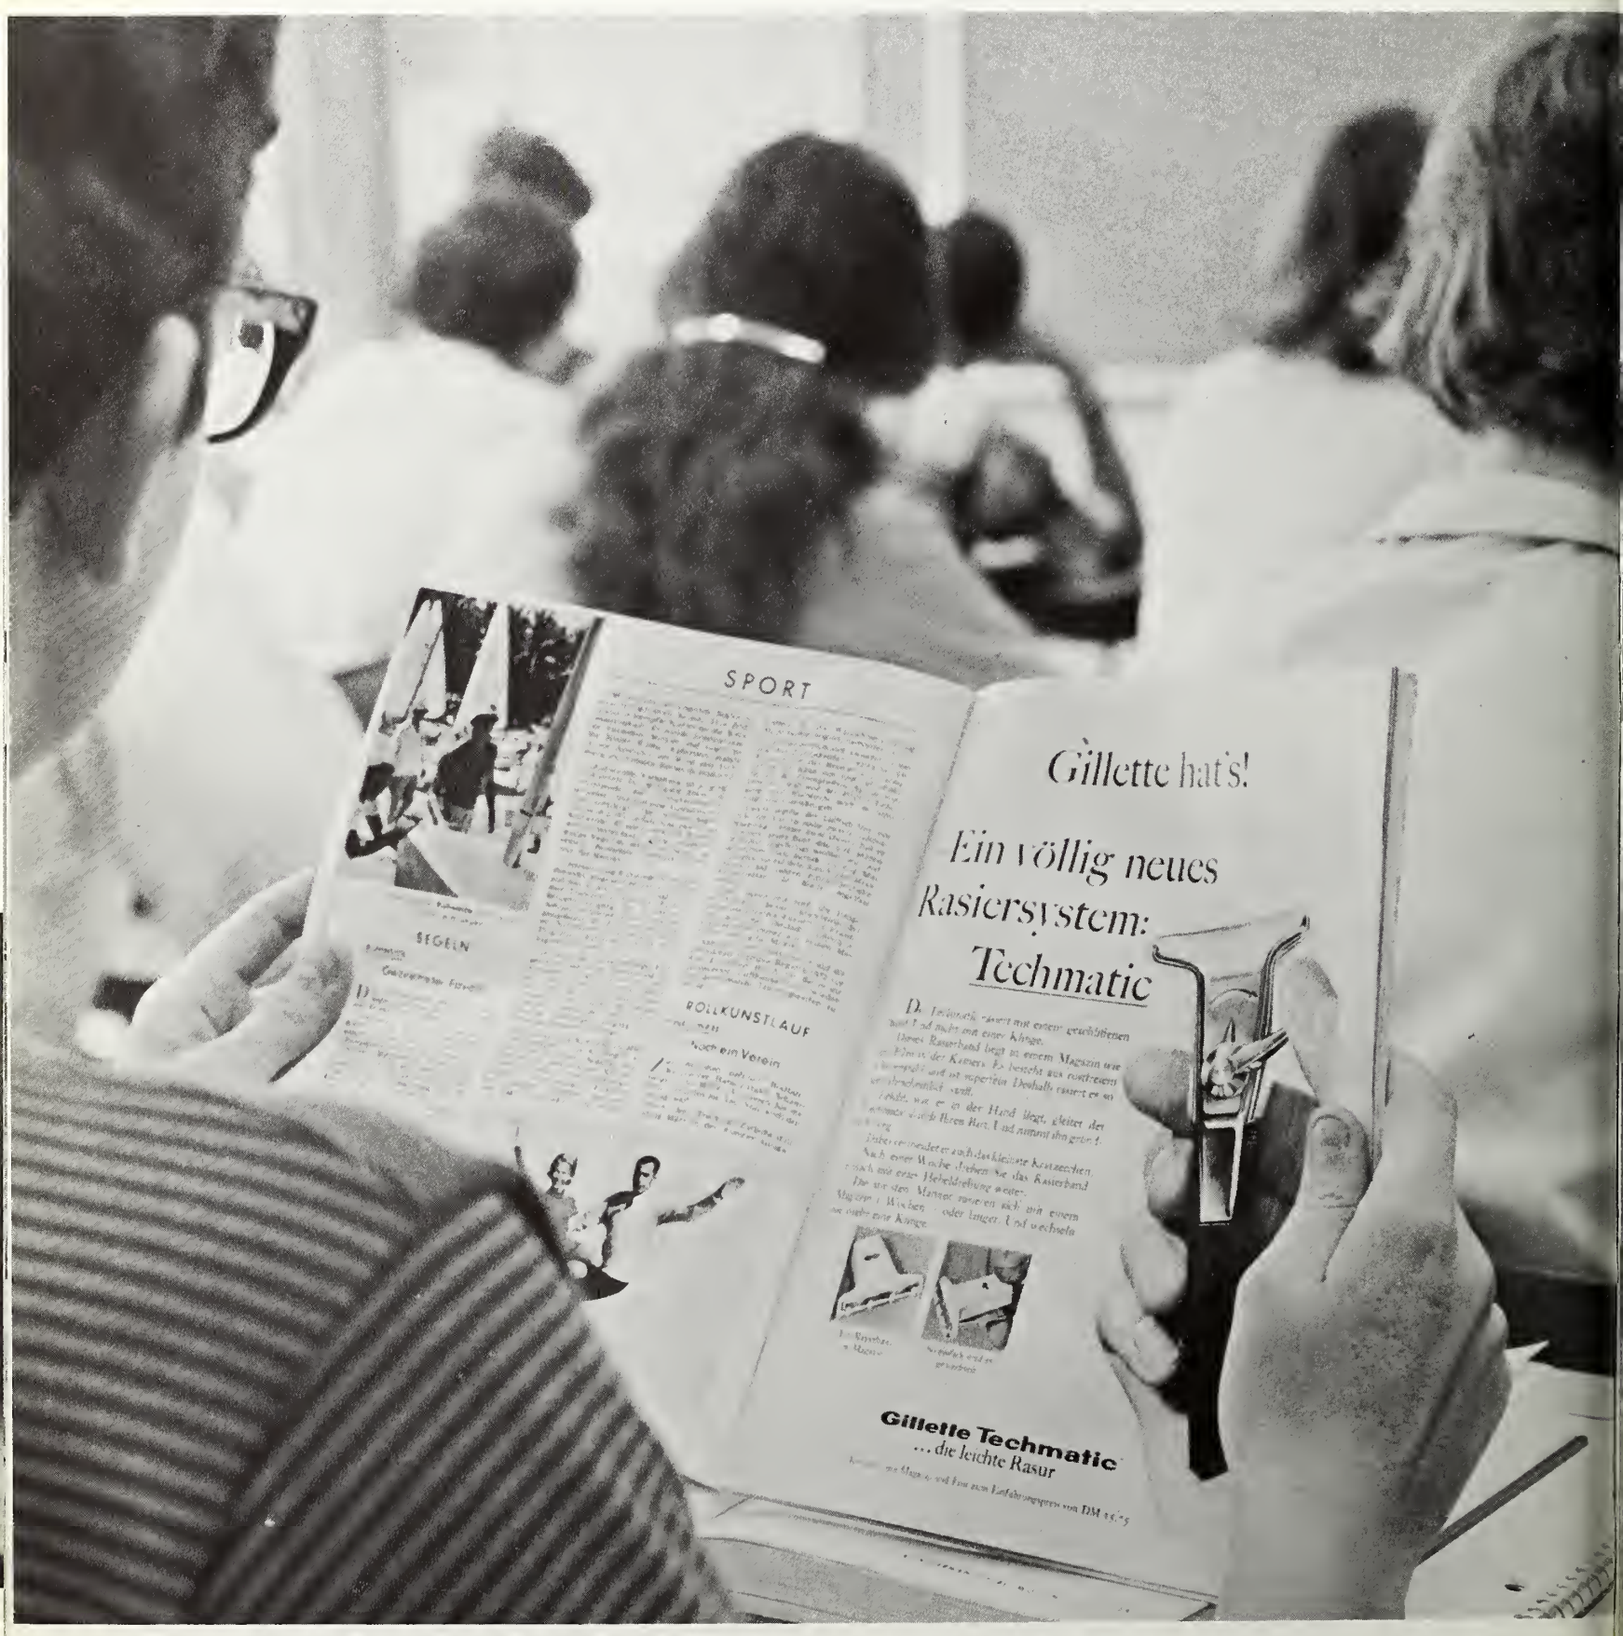
Although English grammar and literature are required throughout the junior year, several elective courses are offered by the English Department.

Public Speaking and Speech Arts allow students to develop an art in communication. Dramatics provides the student a way to express himself through gestures, improvisations, and directed actions. Journalism gives students an opportunity to express themselves in writing. Two sections of the advanced journalism classes cooperate to produce a weekly newspaper while another section creates a new approach to publishing a yearbook.

Students who take English grammar and literature in the senior year find themselves faced with directing their attention to a new college approach to English. This course is a change from earlier English courses in its college level structure.

Above: Contrary to many student ideas, most teachers spend much of their spare time grading tests, compositions and reports as illustrated by Senior English teacher Mrs. McGuire.

Foreign Language Classes Provide Pathway



Junior Joe Hanson, a second year German student, profits greatly by spending his leisure time during his German class reading and examining a magazine written in German. These magazines, which are available in all languages, are very educational for the students.

For College-Bound Students

Left: Resting from regular classroom study Junior Jim Larner leads his French class in "Bango", a version of Bingo played in French.

The feeling of brotherhood and understanding toward people of the world is taught and demonstrated through the foreign language department at Warren Central. In these courses, students learn not only the country's native tongue, but also its culture, geography, history, and ways of life. Foreign languages offered are French, German, Spanish, and Latin.

Foreign languages such as German and Latin are often selected by students interested in vocations in the areas of science or medicine.

Romance languages, such as French and Spanish, usually are selected by students who are interested in foreign affairs and ideas.

Much of the classroom time is spent learning to pronounce, and knowing the meanings of words and sentences, as well as writing them.

This year marked the re-opening of the new language center which allows students to record their own voices and teach themselves at their own learning rate.

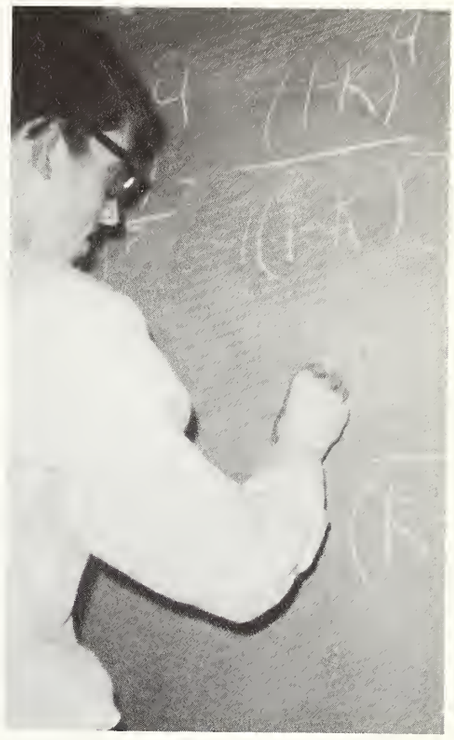
Right: Spanish students Darlene Wade and Scott Norman present a dialogue, a basic ritual performed in all language classes.

Math Courses

Junior Tim Gioe explains the dimensions of a tetrahedron in his Algebra III & IV class.

Contribute Practical, Advanced Knowledge

The different dimensions of geometric figures are contemplated, discussed, and recorded by sophomores Helga Wehner and Mike Hilton during their Geometry class.



Junior Larry Ridgeway explains the algebraic expression he has written on the board during his Algebra I & II class.

An ever increasing knowledge in the field of mathematics is a necessity for the well-educated leaders of tomorrow's world. By using deductive thinking many problems that may arise tomorrow can be solved through logical thinking.

Courses offered by the Mathematics Department are Algebra I & II, Geometry, Algebra III & IV, Trigonometry, College Algebra, and Calculus.

The two main courses selected to fulfill the graduation requirements of two credits are Algebra I & II and Geometry. Students who desire a stronger base of mathematical knowledge may elect other complex and intricate courses such as College Algebra or Calculus.

Many students take advantage of their mathematics department by selecting the five year math plan. However, many students take two, three, or four years of mathematics which will also greatly benefit them in their later vocations as well as many problems that could later arise in life.

Science Courses Offer Variety Of Electives

Although two years of science are required for graduation, the wide variety of courses offered by the Warren Central Science Department caters to almost every scientific interest.

Biology and Chemistry courses give an opportunity for laboratory experience. Botany and Zoology allow a thorough study of plants and animals, respectively. Physiology provides knowledge for students who are interested in how the human body functions. Physical Science allows the student to gather general information of most science fields. Physics and Advanced Chemistry are a challenge to students who wish to pursue knowledge in more complicated areas of science.

Warrenites have found scientific knowledge, such as daily classroom education, is becoming more important as the world in which we live becomes more scientific.

For Science-Minded Students

Above: Senior Warrenite Jan Dunkin explains the illustration of the earth layers to her classmates in earth science class.

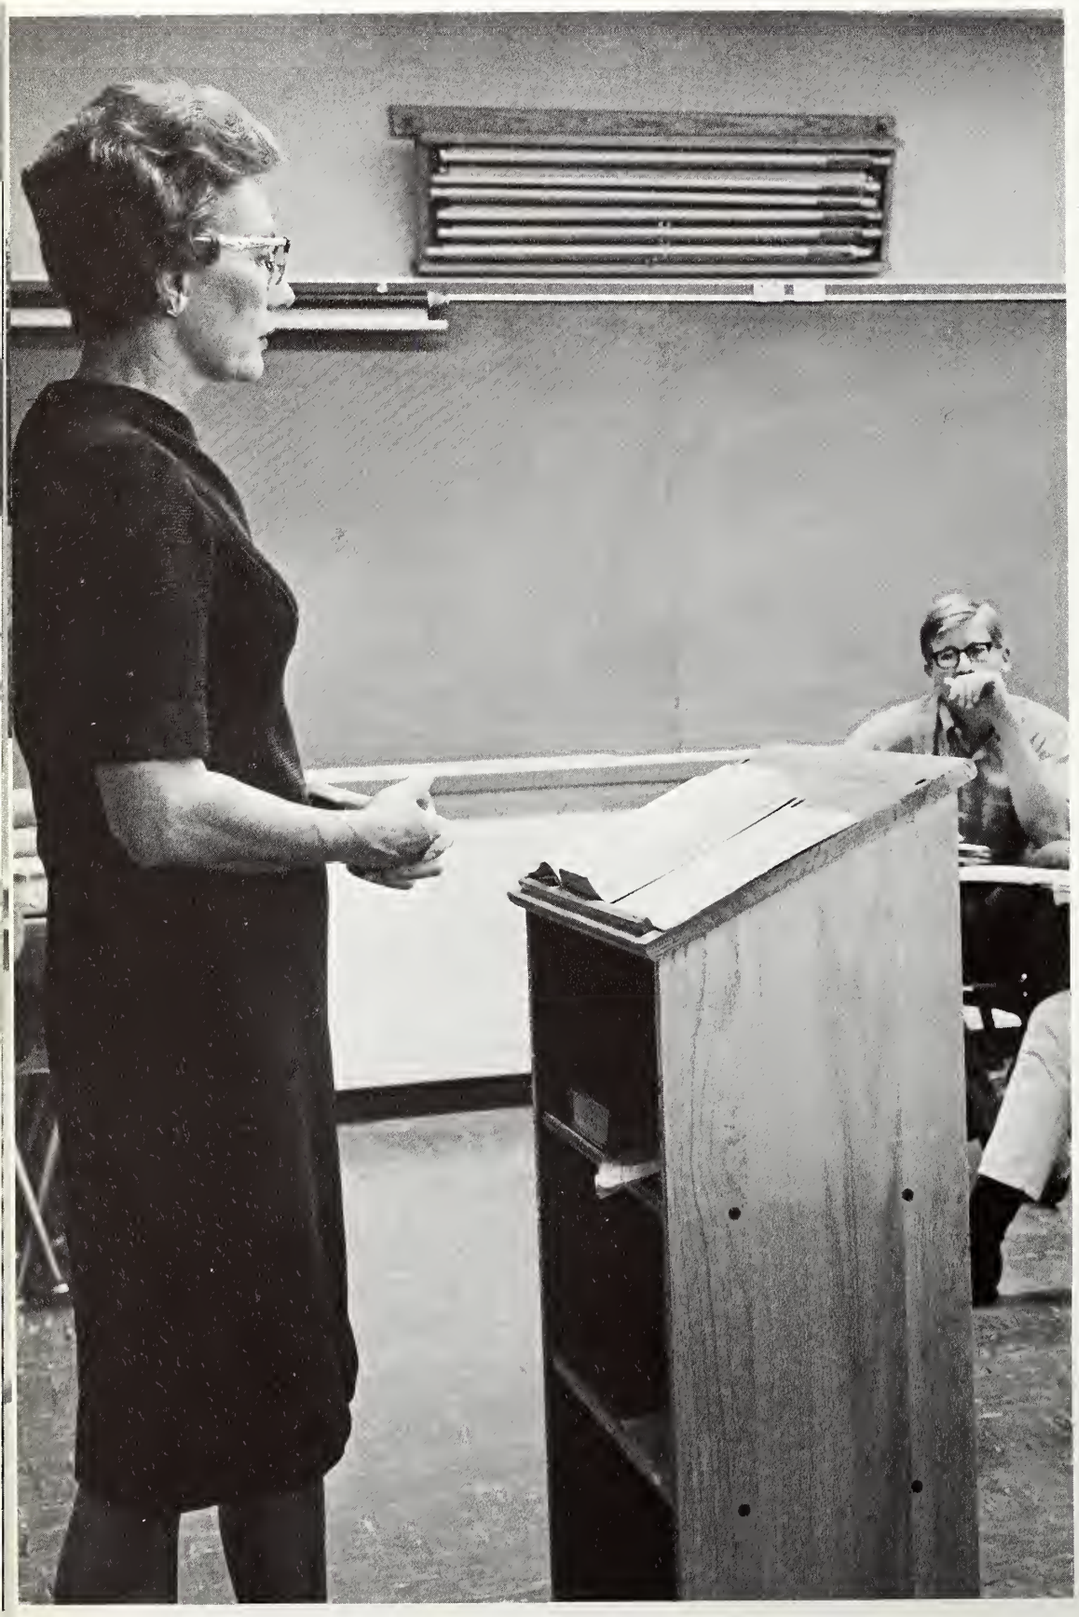
Social Science Courses Instruct Warrenites



Above: Warren Central seniors are readied for citizenship through the teaching and instructions of Mrs. Schlosser.

The world, its people, and the history that has shaped it, from prehistoric times, to today's trials and turmoil, to tomorrow's possible future is explored and speculated by the Social Science classes.

The physical structure of the Earth is investigated in the geography courses. The men and events that have shaped the social, economic, and political aspect are discussed in history classes. The structure of our government and its foundations is instilled through senior government classes.

By caring about the contributions and sacrifices our ancestors gave to make America and the world a better place for humanity to exist, Warrenites gain perspective.

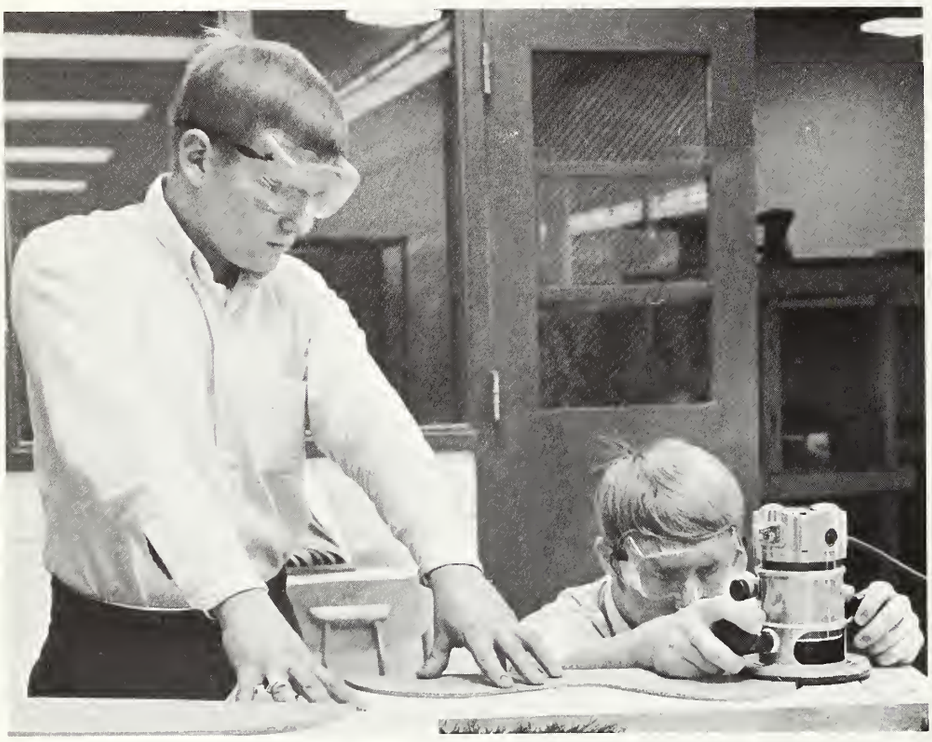
The future holds leadership for the students of Warren Central. We will be the ones to soon take the positions at the head of the government. We will be the ones to lead our country to its future destiny. The social science courses of Warren Central will aid in molding the ideas and aims of government throughout our country.

For Problems Of Tomorrow

Left: Debbie Brewer gives an oral report on ancient emporers as Doug Alexander points out the different countries and bodies of water in World History class.

Below: Seniors Charlie Bacon and John Sykes perform an experiment with the use of a mirror to add interest to their psychology class.

Industrial Arts Courses Promote Creativity.



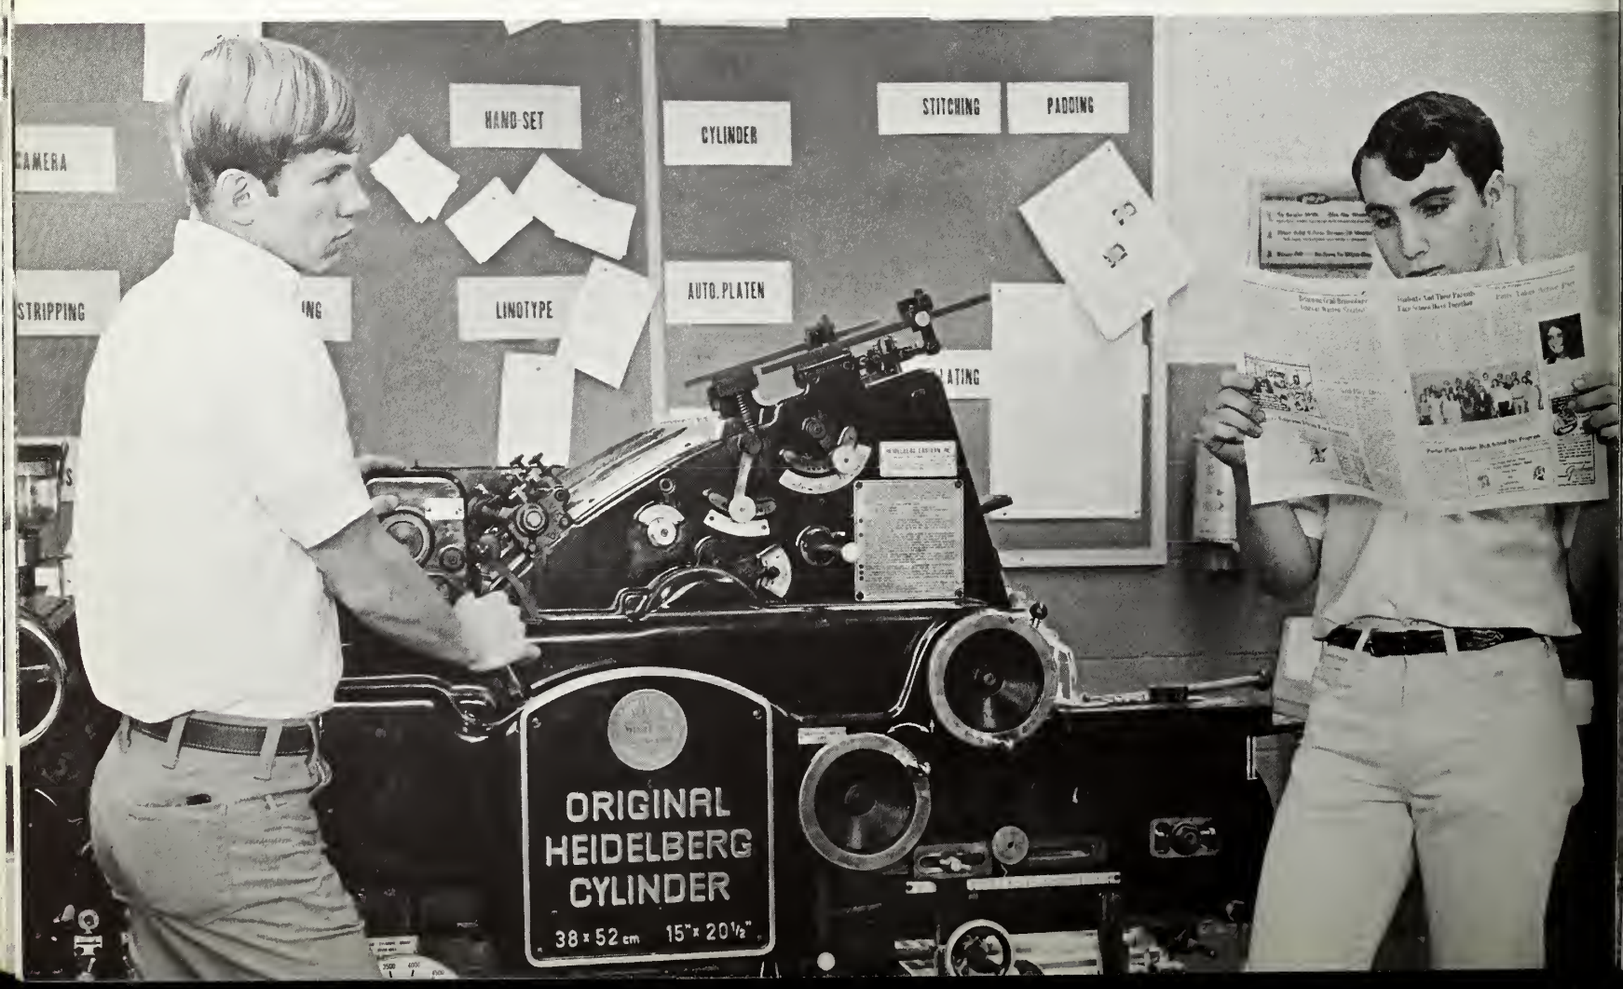
Warren Central's Industrial Arts Department offers a wide variety of vocational training courses for students who find that manual dexterity is their greatest asset. The Warren students get a chance to exhibit their talent and get personal satisfaction in knowing the work they have done is their own.

As an experiment this year, the print shop went into the mass production where each boy had an individual task to perform instead of each boy doing many different jobs. The project was described as successful and future units in mass production are being considered by the administration.

Industrial Arts courses offered by Warren Central are Drafting, Electronics, Advanced Electronics, Wood Shop, Printing, Advanced Printing, Machine Shop, and Transportation.

Left: Junior Ed Collier helps senior Randy Miller as he sands a piece of wood for the wood shop project of his choice.

Below: Printing the Warren Owl is one of the most important jobs of the print shop. Mike Goodman and Jim Lienburger aiding in printing, stop the presses to check over a copy. Because of the print shop, the Owl was able to become a weekly.



Skills For Warren's Prospective Craftsmen

Orchestra Visits Chicago; Department Adds

Above: Related arts, one of the newly acquired classes added to Warren's curriculum this year helps students interested in art and music gain a greater understanding of culture.

Right: Seniors Carla Cassady, Susie Schilk, and Donna Spivey turn their creative talents loose as they create their various art projects in Ceramics Art class.

Two Courses

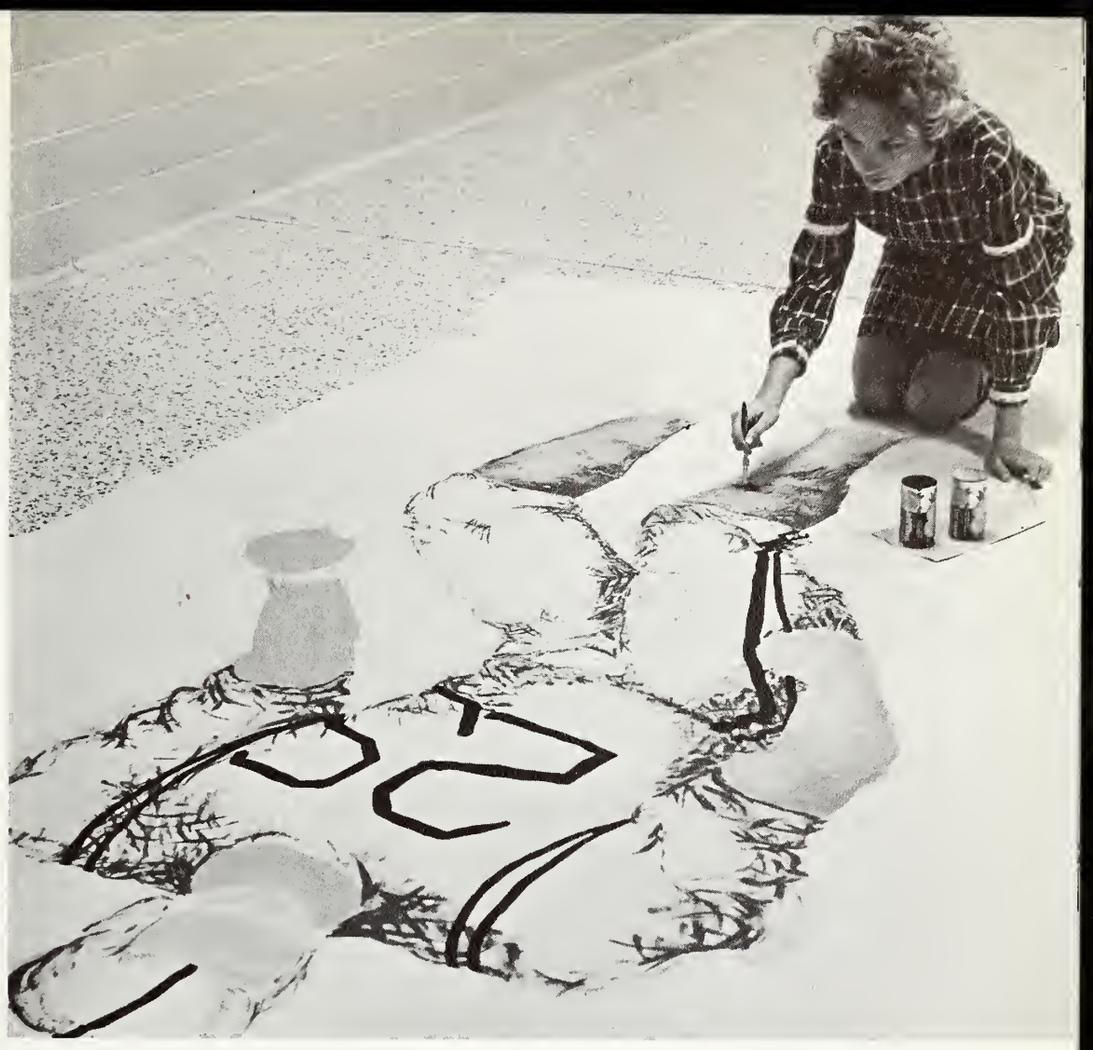
Through the Music and Art Department at Warren Central, students gain a greater appreciation for the fine arts. In the area of art courses, the department offers Ceramics, Crafts, and Commercial Art. Art courses provide a period of creativity and a diversion from the regular classroom duties.

Besides classroom work, art students do most of the drawings and illustrations used to decorate the school. Decorations for the sock hops and other school functions are done by the art students at Warren.

For the students interested in music there are several different choirs who welcome fresh talent. Other musically inclined pupils may wish to join the band or orchestra.

All of the music groups are involved in convocations and special performances throughout the year. This year the orchestra went to Chicago to perform at the Midwest Band and Orchestra Clinic.

Related Arts and Music Theory were two classes added to the Music Department this year to provide the basic fundamentals of art and music.



Above: Junior Charlotte Hoke works diligently to complete her Warrior mural. This year the art department made pictures and murals to decorate the school for fall homecoming.

Business Education, Home Economics Useful

In order to be well-prepared for the fast paced world of tomorrow, practical arts such as business and home economics are a necessity to almost every student at Warren Central.

Homemaking courses such as Advanced Clothing, Advanced Foods, Housing and Child Care offer the female Warrenite a chance to learn the basic skills of domestic life. Correct learning is essential to the average Warrenite who has no time for redoing a dinner or remaking a dress.

Knowledge of the business world can be found through the many business courses offered at Warren. The many problems of finance and ownership as well as the skills of office work are taught in the assorted business classes such as Office Practice, Business Law, Business Math and Bookkeeping. Two of the most popular business classes at Warren, Typing and Shorthand, teach those skills which are helpful even to those students who are not interested in a business career.

Driving Skills,

Physical Education is required for two years at Warren Central High School basically to keep all students physically fit throughout their high school years. Both boys and girls participate in indoor and outdoor sports while each class is involved in sports, requiring individual efforts as well as team participation.

Swimming activities will be included into classroom curriculum in the physical education program when the swimming pool is completed.

Physical Education provides a change from the regular class courses. In PE classes, the students can measure their coordination and become aware of activities they need to improve.

Drivers' Education is popular as well as important on the student schedule. Warren's driver education training classes strive to teach students how to drive properly and safely as well as defensively. Classroom study, and in-the-car experience complete the Drivers' Education course.

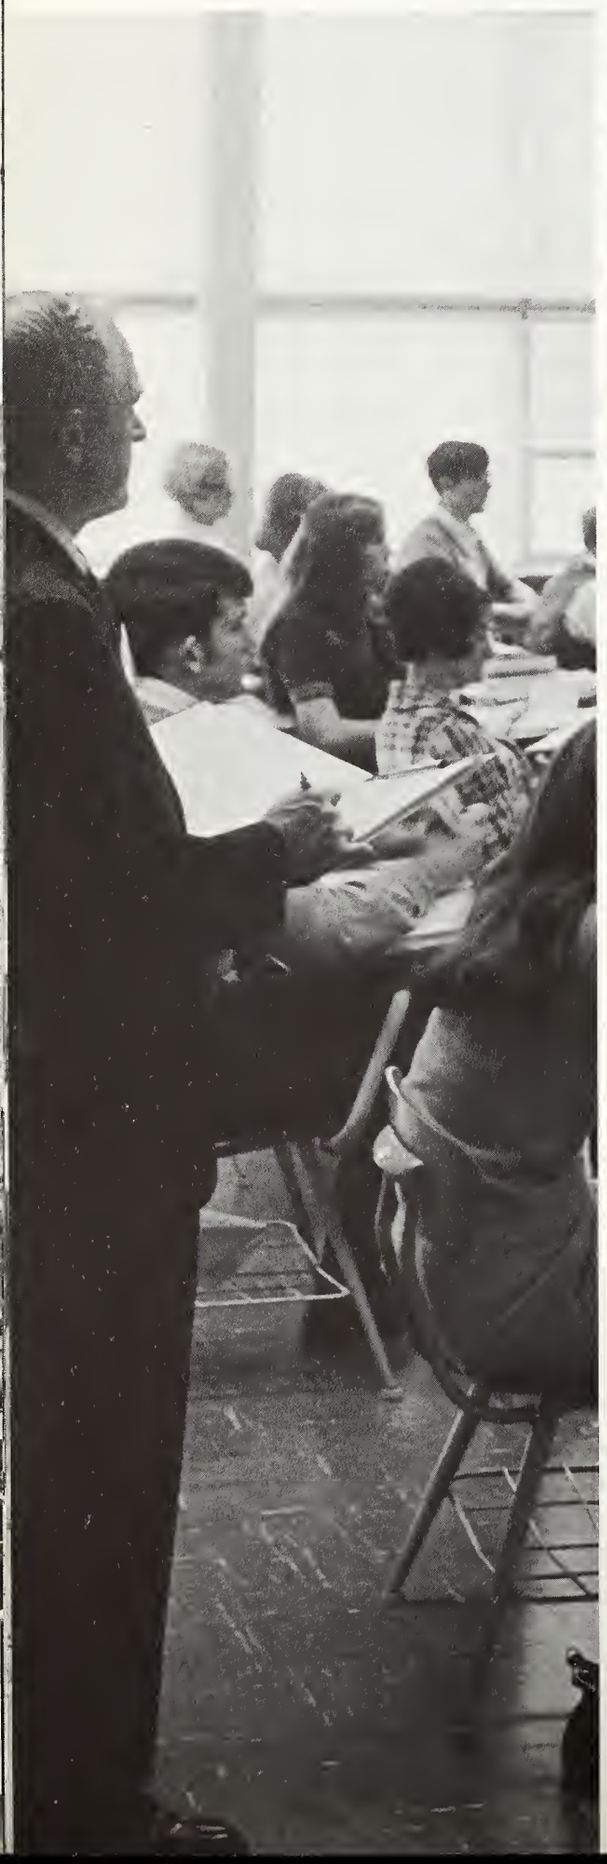
Physical Fitness Are Useful

Above: Sophomores Jackie Frankie and Sharon Parlette demonstrate the brake reaction machine, used to measure the stopping time of students during Drivers' Education.

Above: Invigorating exercise, good sportsmanship, behavior and team participation are instilled in every girl during an exciting game of Speed-away being played outside. Girls in Physical Education at Warren Central usually spend one semester on games and one on gymnastics.

North Central Association Team Re-evaluates



School Life, Curriculum Of Warren Central

Weeks and months of preparation were climaxed by the visitation from thirteen educators representing the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges from December 10 to 13. They completed the re-evaluation study which began with the self-evaluation by the faculty committees. The renewal of the North Central Association's accreditation certifies Warren's excellence.

During the final weeks of the 1967-68 school year and the beginning of this year, the Student Council and the student body raised $1,000 to build an elementary school in El Salvador, South America. Warren Central Elementary School will accomodate 150 pupils, who will range in age from seven to fourteen. Another project of the council was the Student of the Week Award, which allowed any student with at least a C average, to be recognized for participation and service to the school. Through the Adopt-A-Child program, the school was able to provide for a small Indian girl.

The Junior Council, in charge of the activities of the Junior Class, chose the Southside Knights of Columbus for their prom, April 26. Traditionally, the junior class is in charge of the Turnabout Dance. "Fire" was the theme this year and the Oliver's provided the entertainment.

At the beginning of the year, the Senior Council chose black and gold as the class colors and the Sahara Grotto for this year's prom site.

Practice Pays

"NFL" . . . Those three letters bring many things to mind. Perhaps a television football game, or the North Vietnamese forces with their initials slightly switched. But to 159 members of what is recognized as the largest NFL chapter in the U.S., and the best one in the state. "NFL" is something slightly,—almost magically—undefinable.

It's getting up at 4 in the morning to catch a bus in the parking lot leaving for New Haven, Indiana at 4:45. It's feet that hurt from brand-new shoes and too-tight heels. It's disappointment at last places, frustrations at near-wins, and heartache when your team doesn't place and somehow you know it's "your fault."

But NFL is addicting, too, because it's . . . friendship, and discovering that the senior you were so impressed by is human, or that the sophomore who acts so dumb is really a pretty good kid after all. It's slightly off-key voices whose sincerity makes up for their lack in singing ability. It's fellowship. It's being needed and valued as an individual. And it's being an individual with a cause to fight for, and a place to belong.

WC Honor Organizations Develop Interest

Four honoraries can be found at Warren for the student who ranks above average in a certain field.

Leading the honoraries is the National Honor Society. Students must have a high scholastic average and outstanding qualities of leadership and service to qualify for membership.

Mu Alpha Theta is Warren's mathematics honorary. Students must have an 88% average and be interested in math to be eligible for membership.

Thespians is the honorary society for those students who excel in any phase of dramatic presentation. Candidacy for acceptance is based on a point system, in which a minimum of ten points for nomination may be earned in many ways, including acting and extensive committee and stage crew work.

Students who excelled in journalism and were in the upper third of their class were eligible to be initiated to the Dorothy C. Teal Chapter of Quill and Scroll.

Yearbook Staff Combines Abilities To Create

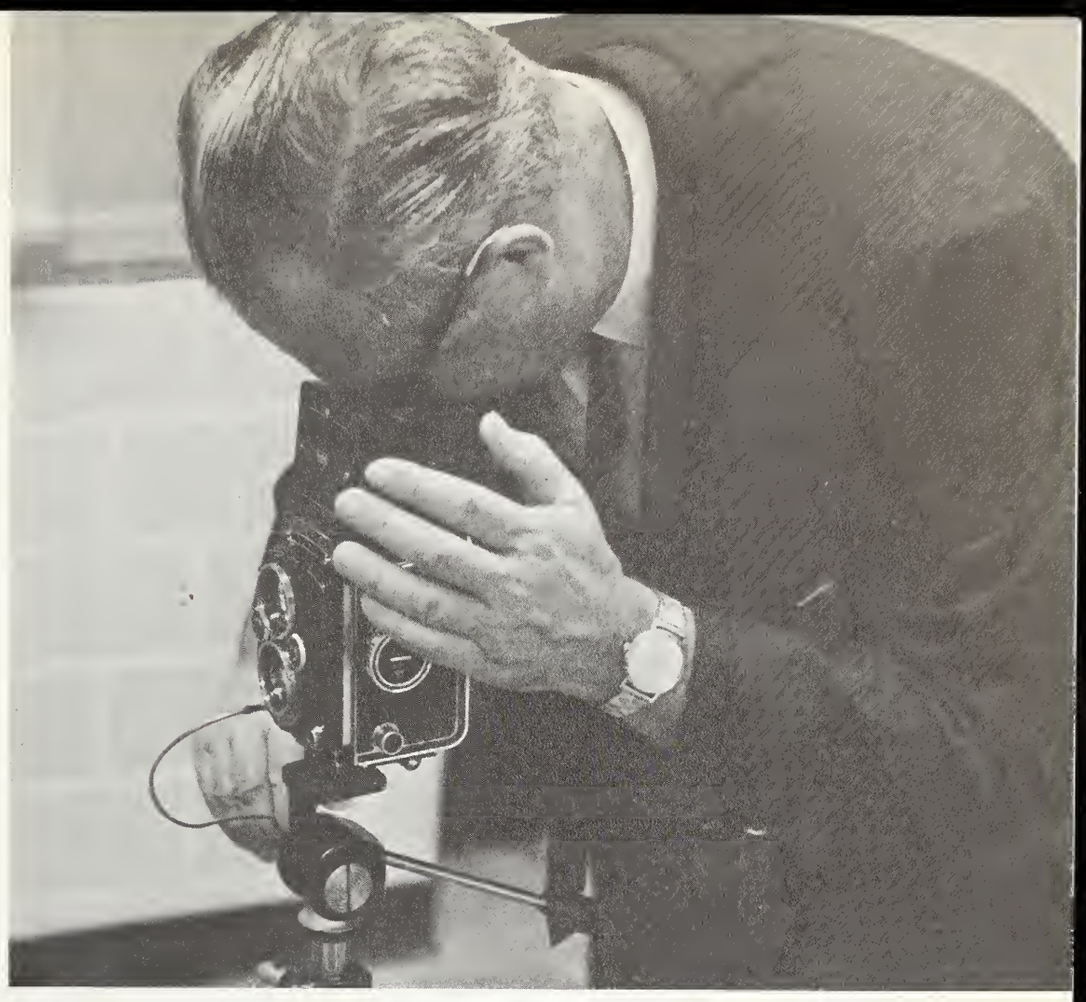
The 1969 Wigwam began its materialiaztion early in the spring at the Journalism Banquet when the Wigwam staff was announced.

During the summer, Editor-in-Chief Susie VanTreese, and Managing Editor Kathy Berg attended a workshop at Indiana University as did Business Manager Carolyn Morgan. Photographer Dave Broecker attended a workshop at Ball State.

With new ideas in mind the Wigwam staff set out to improve the 1969 yearbook. The ad section took on the same format as the other sections. In the opening section a copy style different from any ever printed in previous Wigwams evolved. Wigwam was also increased eight pages to become a total number of 200 instead of the usual 192. Names were printed on the book for all the students ordering a Wigwam. Underclassmen's names appeared in white while Senior's names appeared in gold.

The new ideas and plans could only be brought about by careful planning and close teamwork which made the success of the 1969 yearbook. The memories were credited to the students at Warren.



ABOVE: Mr. Max Galloway focuses his camera on his models as he prepares to take an additional picture for the yearbook. Mr. Galloway was in charge of taking pictures of all the Seniors, activities, academics, and Homecoming pictures, among other things.

BELOW: Discussing and planning for one of Wigwam's sections are Vicky Brothers, Activities Editor; Gail Spencer, Senior Editor; and Lee Collier, Sports Editor. Many ideas and a lot of hard work went into making the 1969 Wigwam a success.

Dedicated Owl Staff Presents News Views

Better ideas to communicate are sought along with the latest news by the OWL staff whose varied activities include forecasting the future events and wrapping up the past.

For Editor-in-Chief Wendy Wiseman, the 1968-1969 OWL began to take shape soon after she was selected, as she prepared to attend the journalism newspaper workshop at Indiana University during the summer.

This year the OWL celebrated its 40th birthday by bringing to Warren a group of interested junior high school pupils to learn the process by which the OWL and the WIGWAM are produced.

Contributing greatly to the continuing success of the OWL is Business Manager, Carolyn Morgan, who handles the financial aspects of the paper; News Bureau Chief, Neil Phillippe, whose job it is to inform the local newspapers of current events at Warren; and Bill Mulford, who serves as Managing Editor, and also the rest of the staff whose help and cooperation make the OWL such a success.

Warren Central Symphony Orchestra Finds

After spending a busy summer and fall consisting of many long hours of practice, the Warren Central orchestra embarked on one of the most exciting years in the history of the Warren musician. The highlight of this fabulous year was the privilege of being chosen to perform at the 22nd Annual Midwest National Band and Orchestra Clinic which was held in Chicago, Illinois. The honor of being chosen was awarded to only three high schools in the United States.

When the notification of this honor was bestowed early last spring the group began soliciting funds from interested citizens of the community, and clubs and homerooms of Warren. The trip which was made on the 18th and 19th of December brought many congratulations and honors to the orchestra.

1968-69 Is Year Of Major Accomplishment

While at the clinic the symphonic group cut a record album consisting of two records. These albums were made available to all students and faculty of Warren and others of the Warren area.

Another event which stood out in "supercalifragilisticexpealidosous" year was a pre-clinic evening concert which brought standing ovations. The spring season was highlighted by an appearance at the annual Warrenette Valentine Tea.

Completing the annual spring concert, "Evening in Hi-Fi" given on April 25, the orchestra demonstrated their abilities by performing at the Warren Township Easter Sunrise Service. Creston and Woodview Junior High Schools were entertained by the group to promote the interest of the future musicians at these schools.

The 1968-1969 year was concluded by the Warren Central Symphony Orchestra providing the music for baccalaureate and commencement.

Symphony Orchestrates For Midwest Clinic

After months of anticipation, practice and preparation for the trip to Chicago to perform before the Twenty Second Annual Midwest Band and Orchestra Clinic at the Sherman House in Chicago, the day finally came. In the grey morning fog of December 17, (Top picture) three buses loaded with 83 orchestra members, instruments, luggage, guest soloists, and chaperones began the journey to Chicago, which was to come to a sleepy end 66 hours later.

Highlights of the exciting trip were several. (Far Right) The excitement and tension build as Barb Niles, concert mistress, whispers last minute reassurances to John Wolfgang as the orchestra members take their places before the performance. (Above) They play for the clinic so well that letters of praise followed them home. They did get off on their own for a little while. On a visit to Chinatown, (Right) Barbara Amos wonders how everyone else is managing to get any food using chopsticks.

Music, Drama Contribute Culture to Warren

Many organizations offered at Warren allow students to display different talents. In the field of Music the Stage Band and Concert Orchestra displayed musical abilities. In the field of drama different talents were also displayed.

The Stage Band, better known as the Big Chiefs, presented the more spirited type of arrangements. Their tunes provided many with lively entertainment. The Concert Orchestra is a novice group which performed during the first semester and joined the Symphony Orchestra second semester. Highly ranked in the field of varying talents were those of the dramatics department. These people became familiar with the many aspects of dramatics. They learned the essentials in not only acting, but also in what goes on in setting up a big production such as costuming, prop building, make-up, and helping the actors and actresses in between scenes.

These operations helped promote, create, and develop a few of the many talents Warrenites possess. The goals of these organizations were attained.

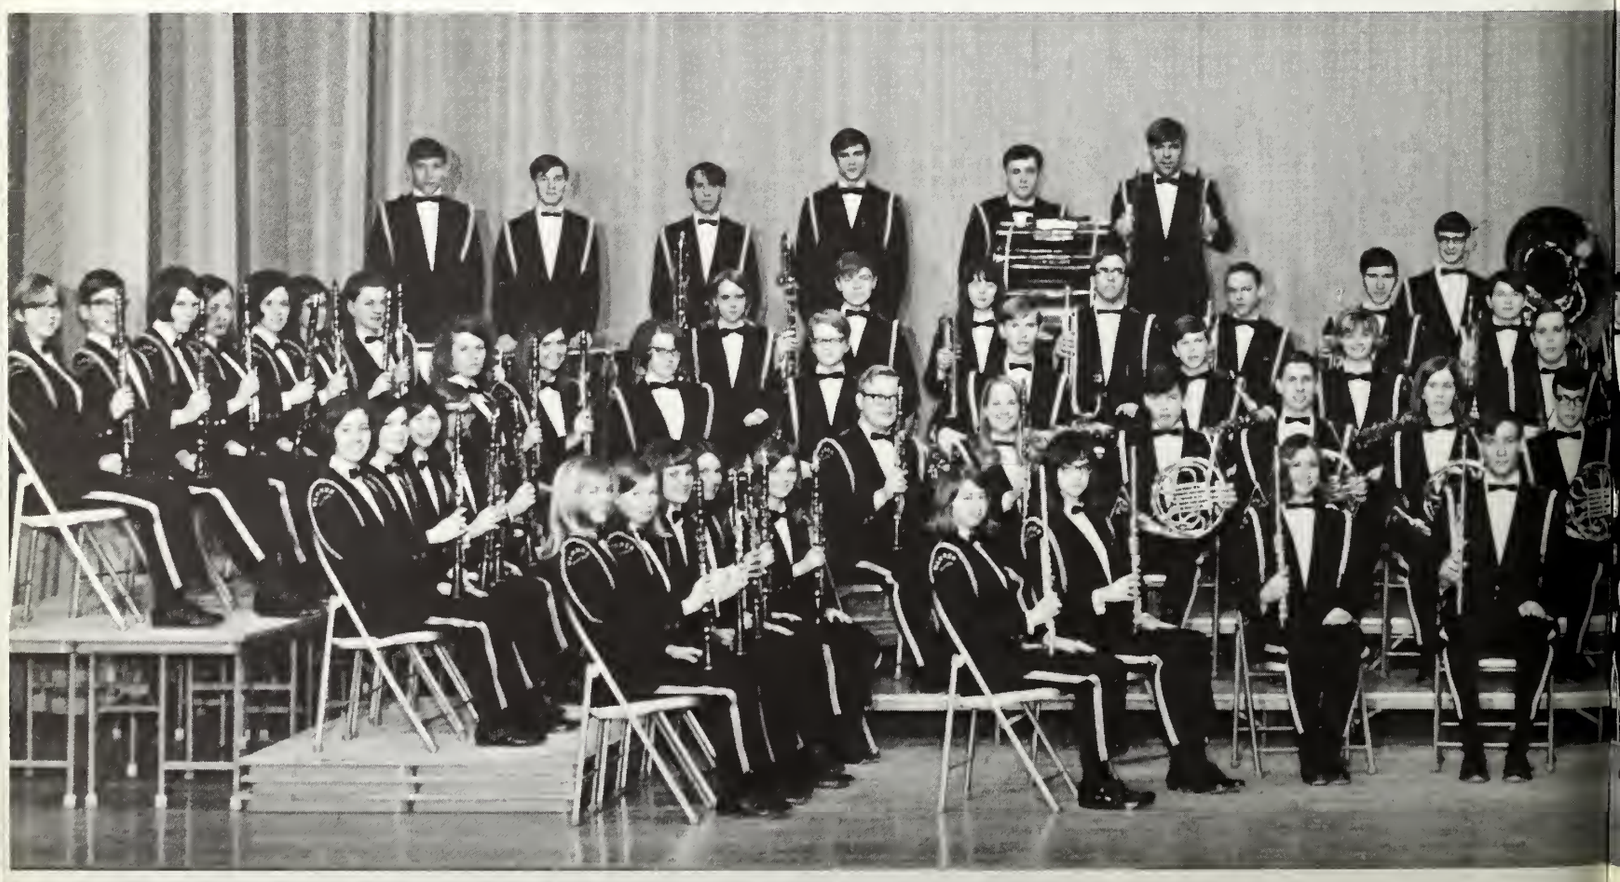
These officers were the group responsible for not only heading the band in all its performances, but they were also in charge of making the final arrangements for their appearances, which included marching in two parades downtown, one of which was the 500 Festival Parade.



To Community

Warren Central's Marching Warriors, under the new direction of Mr. James Chandler, brought honor and distinction to Warren during the school year as they received a first division class A rating in the State Marching Contest at Southport. The band particiapted in many state contests this year bringing considerable recognition to Warren.

During the half-times at home football games, the band, along with the Warriorettes, performed unusual and entertaining routines. The 103 member band performed in the Veteran's Day Parade and the 500 Festival Parade.

With the football season ending, the band started preparing for the Pops Concert, "All That Jazz," held on November 21. The winter concert "Two for the Show" followed next as Lawrence Central combined its concert band with the Marching Warriors.

During the basketball season, entertainment was provided by the Pep Band as they supported Warren at all the home games. "Spring Winds," presented in April was the final production of the band.

Several organizations for the voices of Warren Central can be found in Warren's Music Department.

Trebletones, an elite group composed only of girls, entertains for organizations inside and outside of school. Besides singing at school functions, they perform at assorted luncheons, clubs and other programs for the people of Indianapolis.

Windsors is the only all-boy music group at Warren. In their fourth year, they rank equally high with the Trebletones. During the year the Windsors sing at various musical school convocations along with the other groups.

The largest girl vocal organization at Warren is the Girl's Glee Club, which performs at various times during the year. This provides an outlet for their interests in singing and music.

This year, a new vocal organization was created at Warren. The Chantelles, another all-girl ensemble, was composed to assist the Trebletones with their over-crowded performance schedule. They also sang at school programs.

Vocal Groups

During third and sixth periods melodious voices could be heard spreading through the halls at Warren Central. Mystery and wonder drive persons to seek the harmonizing sounds, the floating notes lead its followers to the rhythm which filled the air from voices of Warrenaires and Madrigals.

Many events of the year filled the tuneful agenda of these two groups. Besides performing for many convocations they participated in other events. A few of their performances consisted of entertainment during the choral festival and making a singing Christmas tree.

The Madrigals provided music appropriate for the Tudor Dinner during Christmas. They performed on TV along with other engagements. Outstanding members had roles in the spring musical, "Oklahoma."

Many things contribute to the musical abilities of these groups. Being able to write music and singing with a strong and clear voice are only a small portion of what it takes to be a part of two of the finest groups.

LEFT: Miss Barbara Robertson, vocal music instructor, also assists Trebletones and Warrenaires by accompanying them in their music. ABOVE: With everyone in tune, the Warrenaires concentrate on their music for the first run-through of a number for a future performance.

As seen from backstage, the Madrigals, acapella singing group, provided Warrenites with entertainment through convocations several times during the year. The group also sang at many outside activities such as the premiere of "Finian's Rainbow."

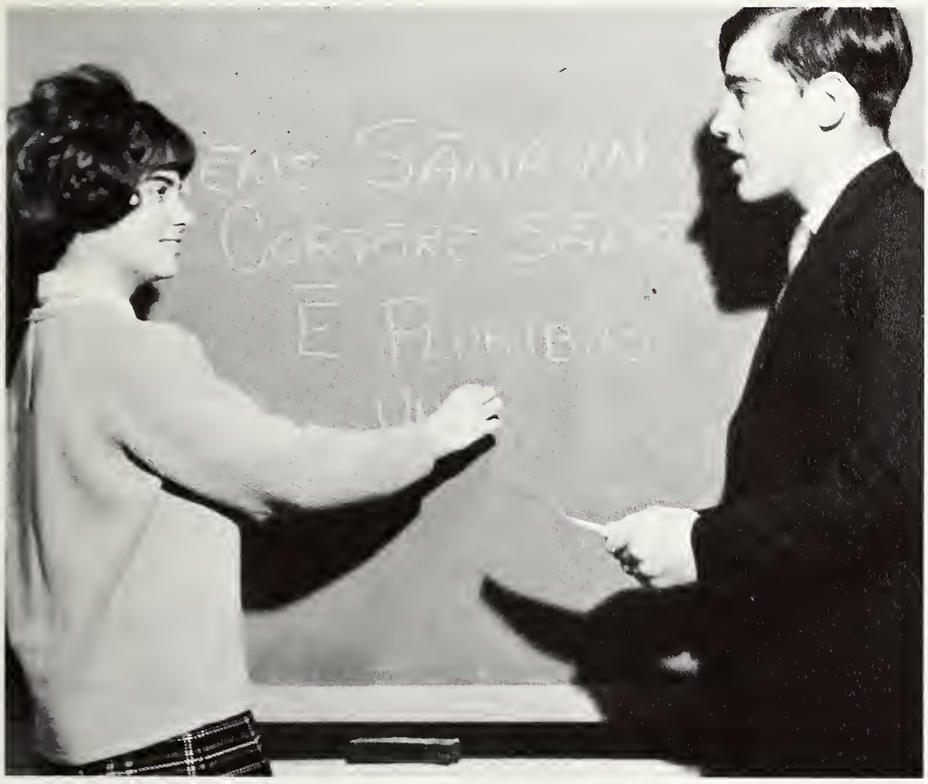
Foreign Language Interests Unite Students



LATIN CLUB OFFICERS—Shari Cope, secretary-treasurer, writes "A healthy mind and a healthy body. Together we stand" as Stan Willen, President, dictates. Not pictured is Bill Gierke, Vice President.

Warren strives to teach the customs of a country in outside activities as well as in classrooms. This is the purpose of the various language clubs.

Requirements for membership include interest in a foreign country and being enrolled or having been enrolled in that particular language class.

Le Cercle Francais, the French Club, regained the first place musical award presented at the banquet where each language club sings in an organized choir contest. They were also the winners of the chariot race, which the Latin Club annually sponsors as part of the pre-banquet entertainment. The Latin Club also sponsored the slave sale, a traditional event where student slaves are bought and sold according to their worth.

El Circulo Espanol, the Spanish Club, besides breaking the usual pinata at Christmas, brought honor to themselves by entering the winning float, "Dragon-Mouth" in the float contest held prior to the fall homecoming game.

"Rosen Montag", a German movie provided for an educational and interesting field trip when it was seen by the German Club, Der Deutsch Klub, which also made plans to see a soccer game.

"Vivé la France!" exclaim French Club Officers, Marilyn Savers, vice-president; Al DeRose, parliamentarian; Janet Wolfgang, secretary; Chris Woempner, president.

WC Service Clubs Aid In Shaping Leaders

SENIOR WARRENETTE OFFICERS—(Left to Right) Barbara Miller, secretary-treasurer; Patty McDivitt, sergeant-at-arms; Linda Jefferson, vice-president; Markita Patrick, president; and Sheri Goodwin, chaplain; led the organization in service to the school and the community. They also furthered the goals of the club in improving the individual in her general, religious, and social education.

Of Tomorrow

Senior, Junior, and Sophomore girls compose the Warrenttes Club, Warren Central's girls' service organization. Although the girls meet jointly, each class level elects its own officers to help direct the programs and regular meetings. Once again, the Mother-Daughter Valentine Tea was one of the club's projects. This event gave the mothers and daughters a chance to get acquainted with school administrators, club sponsors and other members. Besides the regular meetings of the club, the organization sponsored a fashion show for the members, where they modeled evening dresses, school clothes and sportswear.

One of the most popular clubs at Warren is the Hi-C Bible Club, created to the spiritual interest of Warrenites. This year, the students donated enough in food and money to feed eight families in the club's annual Feed-a-Family Drive. The club also paid the repair bill for the school's nativity scene, which had been damaged two years before by vandals. Morning devotions were also the responsibility of the Hi-C Club, a segment of Warren life which the North Central Evaluation Committee praised.

HI-C OFFICERS—(From bottom to top) Shirley Honeycutt, vice-president; Randy Miller, sergeant-at-arms; Karen Daily, secretary; Vickie Hayes, devotions chairman; Jan Dunkin, treasurer; Mike Holmes, sergeant-at-arms; and Bill Mulford, president.

Letterman's Club, Pep Block Boosts Warren

Pep Block is the only activity to meet during Friday homerooms. Standing outside the gym, looking down a poster-plastered hall, you can almost feel the floor quiver with the scores of voices practicing to let the world know that they care about a school, a team, and a game's outcome.

Gold and black capes, colored cards and mittens seem to unify girls from all areas of Warren life into a unit block of pure vocal power working for a common goal: to "let "their boys" know that they aren't alone.

Sophomores drool, juniors sigh, and even the senior girls sneak admiring glances at the masculine figure attired in a gold lettered-sweater. A white sweater puts them all into a state of heaven beyond human appreciation. These emblems of success never lose that "specialness" that marks them "varsity." But an athlete's service doesn't end here: It only begins.

The Lettermen's Club was formed to help boost the high ideals of the sweaters they wear: ideals such as good sportsmanship, a wholesome athletic program, and an interest in high school athletics itself.

The Girls' Pep Block, displaying the same spirit they show at the games, practiced each Friday during homeroom on the cheers they were to use at the games that weekend.

Jill Mumaugh, president; Mellanie Sizemore, reporter; and Penny Demaree, secretary.

BUSINESS CLUB OFFICERS—Helping out in the bookstore are Judi Little, president; Sandy Bruns, secretary; Brenda Pratt, treasurer; and Phil Duncan, vice-president.

The Library Club, whose prime purpose it is to promote further interest of those interested in library science created a new project this year. Class pins, with WCHS in gold and the class year on a guard chain, were obtained through the club for those who ordered them.

Those students interested in the history, past and present, of the United States were urged to become active in the History Club.

Members of the Business Club worked to learn the importance of business skill as well as business leadership. These qualities are important in a world with endless occupational categories for the student interested in this field.

Alpha Hi-Y, another of Warren's service clubs, was responsible for the Thanksgiving and Easter convocations. They also sponsored the Mr. Physique contest.

In Long List Of WC Special Interest Clubs

Traditionally, the Industrial Arts Club sells derbies for the county tourney. This year they were ordered in two colors. Besides the usual black variety, a new yellow derby was sold.

Trying to promote an appreciation of homemaking was the purpose of the Future Homemakers of America. This year, for the first time, the club became affiliated with The National Homemakers. At one of the club meetings, girls enrolled in sewing class modeled some of the clothing they had made.

Various facets of education were explored by the members of the Future Teachers of America. Several speakers visited their meetings to speak on the subject of the teaching profession.

Nursing and other hospital work was the main interest of the Future Nurses Club. Some of the members assisted the nurse during their free periods, while others planned on going into the profession upon graduation.

Also along these lines Junior Red Cross Club. Although last year it was a part of the Nurses Club it separated from it this year, and as a result was organized late.

FTA OFFICERS—Coordinating the 75 member organization and interesting students in the profession of teaching are Barbara Jackson, historian; Jeannie Miller, secretary; Mary Jane McMath, vice-president; Paulette Elkins, treasurer; and Robert Wiker, president Barbara Power, secretary; Rojene Gillentine, treasurer; Elaine Graham, historian; Marla Mills, vice-president; Dorothy Ashcraft, reporter.

RADIO CLUB—This is WZ9BWI calling. The Warren Radio Club is composed of ham radio operators, who share the hobby of broadcasting. Mike Brown, vice-president, leans on the console while Dennis Cole, president, gets ready to broadcast as Cliff Alexander, secretary-treasurer, looks on.

No matter what a Warren student may be interested in, there is usually a club pertaining, in some way, to that subject or a closely related topic.

Upon completion of the new addition to Warren, Warrenites will also be proud of their wildlife sanctuary thanks to the efforts of the Biology club. The club created the refuge complete with bird-feeders and man-made stream.

Many of those students interested in careers in Science join the Science Club. Along with having key speakers at their meetings, the club made plans to take their field trip early in the spring.

Being able to drive is a necessity to most Warren students. The Drivers' Club consists of students interested in educating the public to the fact that the majority of teenagers are good drivers.

Kings, queens and pawns were among the chief interests of the Chess Club members. Long hours of practice were necessary before the several inter-school matches in which they participated.

Membership in the Radio Club enabled students to learn the operation of "ham" radios. Visiting radio-related installations proved to be helpful in their study.

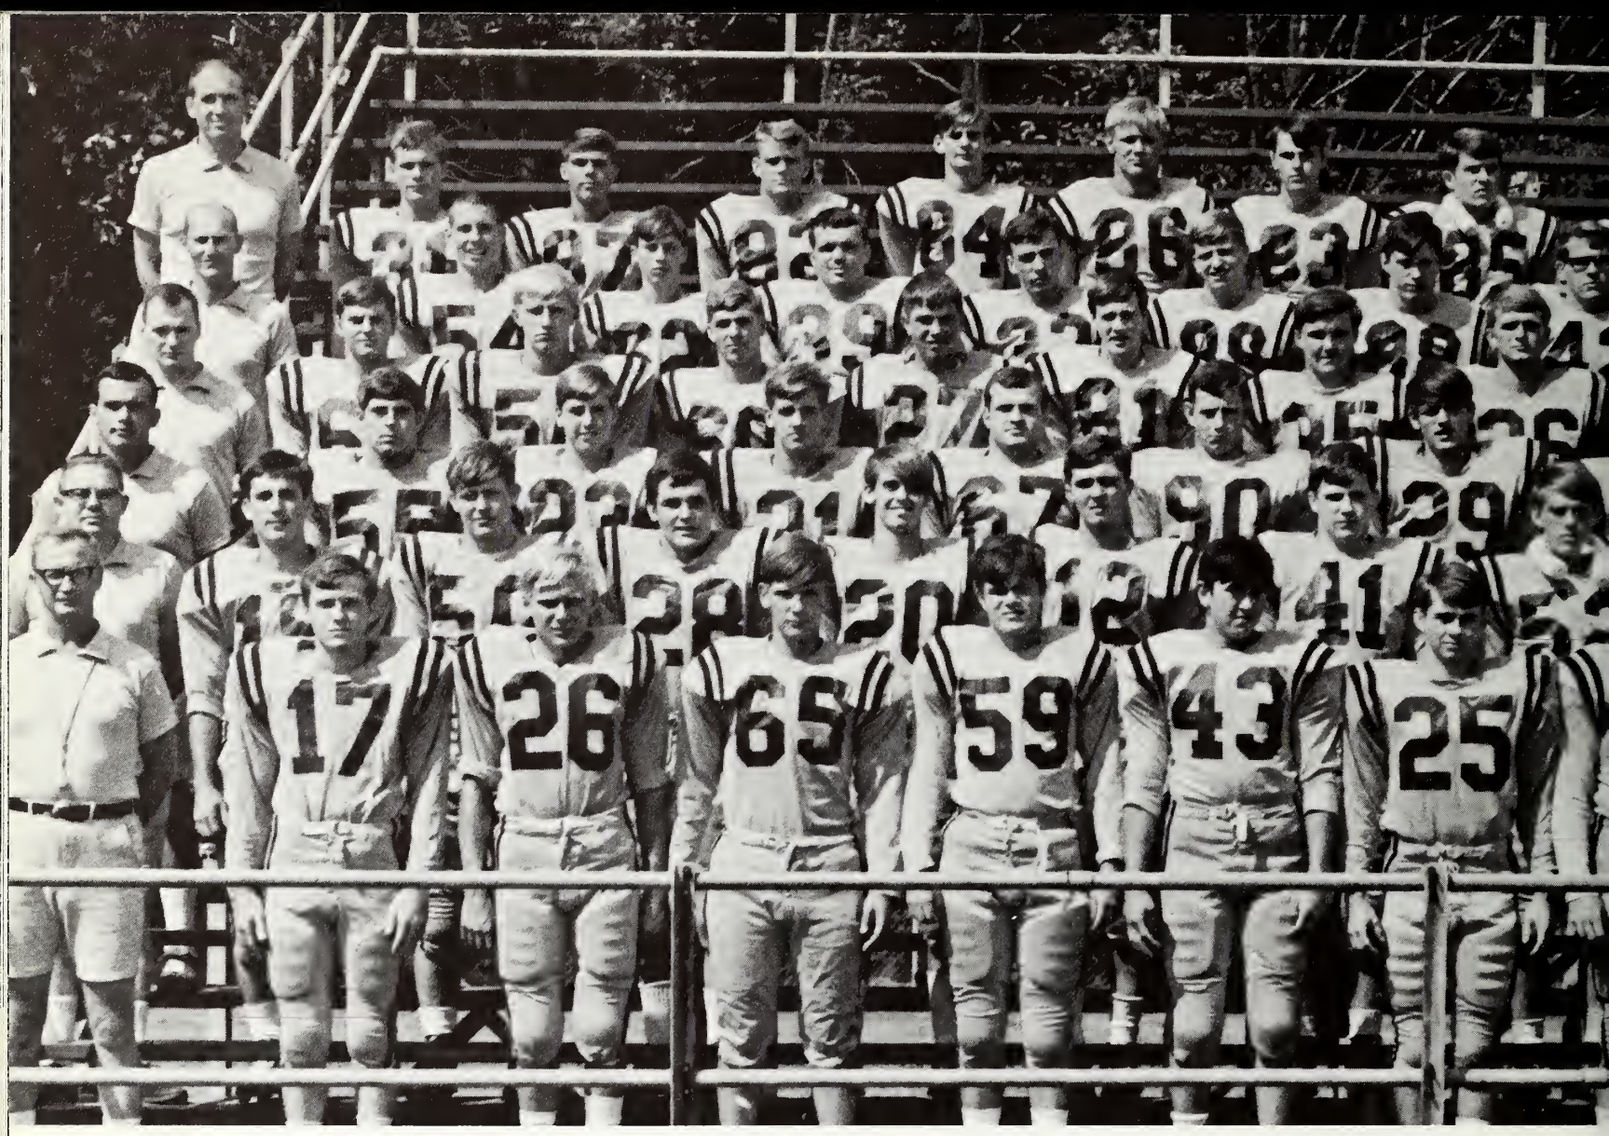
Sports



Determination and hopes of a County Championship and then injuries, despair and a struggle to even the record was the story of Warren's varsity football team, rated by many as the finest ever fielded by Warren.

The season began in mid-August as 103 boys turned out for the initial practice. After the first practice equipment was nowhere to be found.

As the time for the first game came around, 63 boys had withstood the summer's heat and they made up the varsity squad.

In the season opener, Coach Dave Shaw's Warriors defeated eastside-rival Scecina for the first time in Warren history by the score of 18-7. This was followed by a 41-0 thrashing of Ben Davis.

After these two successive wins the Warriors dropped their next two games, one to Carmel, 29-19, and the other to city foe Arlington, 27-14. The squad rebounded to win over Tech, 27-14, in a hard-fought game.

Hard times then befell the Warriors as injuries began to hit the key players, while on the field the play was somewhat unimpressive. In the North Central game, the Warriors suffered a 43-7 trouncing by the eventual county champions, and also lost the services of All-County halfback, Terry Woodburn, who injured a knee.

This defeat was followed by a loss to Lawrence Central, 20-12 and a 14-13 loss to Eastside rival Howe in a close nip-and-tuck game.

The season then made a turn for the better with the squad closing the year with two successive victories over Southport by the score of 26-21 and Greenfield, 21-6, with senior Tom Wade collecting all 21 points.

Statistics compiled at the end of the season revealed senior halfback Tom Wade led the team in rushing with a 6.3 yards per average carry. Terry Woodburn ended up second with a 5.3 average and senior halfback Jim Henninger finished third at a 4.3 yards per carry. Wade also led the team in total points scored with 78 followed closely by Woodburn with 72 points.

As a highlight to an average season, the Warrior's Terry Woodburn, Steve Robinson, Gary Wessling and Jim Smith were selected All County, the second consecutive year for Woodburn, Smith and Wessling. In addiditon, Terry Woodburn was chosen Mighty Warrior, for the second year straight.

Harriers Beat

Warren's Cross - County team coasted to one of its finest seasons by posting a 7-4 record. Starting with summer's heat and ending in autumn's chill, the harriers began their season in a victorious way by defeating Greenfield and Shelbyville in a tri-meet. The next meet found the harriers competing against Cathedral and Scecina, with the Warriors ending up second in the meet. Howe was the next victim of the thin-clads by the score of Warren 23, Howe 33 in a dual meet.

The Beech Grove meet turned out to be the most satisfying for Senior Jim Arvin. Arvin posted a school record of 9:45.8, as the Warriors bested Beech Grove 21-40.

County time saw the Warriors finish seventh, followed by a 19-37 victory over city foe, Manual. The season finale saw the Warriors finishing a respectable seventh out of 24 teams in the sectional.

Seniors Jim Kendall and Ernie Brewer store away their sweats with hope of a county championship for their successors.

Intramural Golf Provides Interest, Activities

After an excellent game, double's champions Blake Beldon and Ken Slater pause for a rest and an exchange of views about their match at Pleasant Run Golf Course.

The intramural sports program was extended again this year to include golf, which turned out to be an exciting program.

The matches were held at Pleasant Run Golf Course which provided stiff competition for the linksmen who met once a week on Monday.

The play was based on individual and team competition with Senior Bill Gierke reigning as individual champion and Ken Slater and Blake Beldon finishing ahead of the field in the doubles department. Individual low scorer for one round honors was awarded to Sophomore Mike Hacker and Senior Dave Weber was cited for outstanding mental attitude.

Handicaps were figured after each round to give the better players more competition and the less experienced ones a chance to bolster their confidence.

But, without the help of Coach Ron Roach, the extent of the success of the program would never have been known.

John Sykes, George Alexander, and Terry Woodburn cooperate in a team rebound at the Carmel game, while Terry Toffolo looks on.

For new head basketball coach Bob (Bat) Masterson, his first season as a Warrior was one of excitement and heart break. It was a season in which the Warriors beat opponents by 40 points and one in which they were beaten 46 points by the eventual state champions Washington. It was a season which saw the squad lose four games by the slim total of seven points, but a season in which the roundballers regained possession of the coveted "Dope Box" from defeating Marion County champion, Speedway.

Back for his third year of varsity competition was all sports stand-out Terry Woodburn, along with lettermen John Sykes, George Alexander, and Jim Arvin, who made up the starting lineup along with 6'5" Terry Toffolo. Toffolo joined the squad and was a big reason for the Warrior's triumphant season. Toffolo jumped from the Intra-Mural program as a junior to the starting lineup for the varsity squad as a senior and helped to break many close games open with his ardent scoring and rebounding ability.

Warren sports history was made for the third time in as many years as the Warriors' basketball squad captured the school's first basketball sectional championship in Warren's forty-five year history.

Meeting Kennedy in the first game of the tournament, the Warriors easily out-manned and out-classed the Spartans by the score of 74-44. The Saturday afternoon game found the squad matched with the Wood Woodchucks, and the Warriors triumphed by the lopsided score of 68-46. The final game pitted the team against the Cathedral Irish. As the game progressed, the Warriors literally blew the Irish out of the gym in winning a semi-upset, 61-49.

The following week brought two pep sessions plus Hinkle Fieldhouse. The Warriors met Brownsburg winner, Plainfield, and defeated the Quakers 72-51, but the final game ended in disappointment as the Warriors met defeat at the hands of tall, talented Washington 87-41.

Mini-Warriors

For Reserve Basketball coach Robert Heady, the 1968-69 season must have been a very satisfying one. After posting a 17-3 record last year and not winning the county championship, Heady's team captured the coveted title and also posted a similar record in doing so. Martinsville proved to be an easy opponent as the Warriors defeated the Artesians in the season opener. Following a 36-35 loss to Tech, the Warriors won three straight in rolling over Scecina, 39-27, Lawrence, 38-31, and Decatur, 56-47, before bowing to Washington, 31-30. Ben Davis was no match for the "mini-Warriors" as they tipped the Giants, 36-25. North Central was a tougher assignment, and the Warriors were defeated 55-43. In preparing for the Reserve Tourney the squad squeaked by Pike 49-47. In the tourney itself, Warren met Lawrence in the final game and defeated them 35-30, to capture the county title.

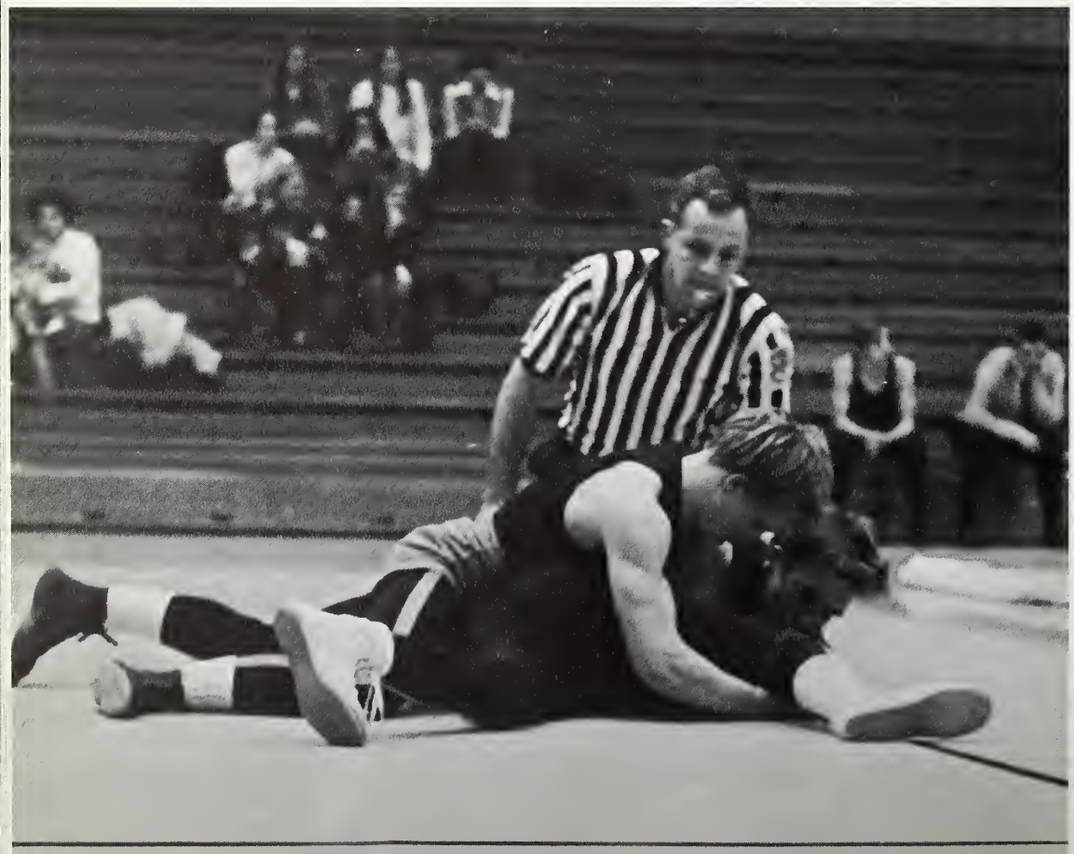
Many people believe that history repeats itself, and Warren's wrestling team made a believer out of head coach John Kennedy by capturing the sectional title for the second consecutive year.

Though the grapplers hopes of a second championship seemed remote as they were defeated in the first three matches by Decatur 24-21, North Central 35-15 and Franklin Central 22-18, the squad rebounded to win the rest of their matches to bring their record to 9-3. Some of the biggest victories came over city rival Arlington 23-22, the Scecina Invitational and the Warren Invitational in which the grapplers placed first.

But the big surprise of the season was in 120 pound Roger Noel who placed second in the state in his weight class, the first Warren wrestler ever to advance that far. With the majority of the team returning next year, Coach Kennedy may be happy to discover that history can repeat itself a third time.

Roger Noel, who placed second in the state Wrestling Tournament, registers valuable points against his opponent as the referee closely watches the match.



In a tough competitive sport such as wrestling, Sectional Champ Randy Miller tops off the meet with Arlington in a smashing victory.

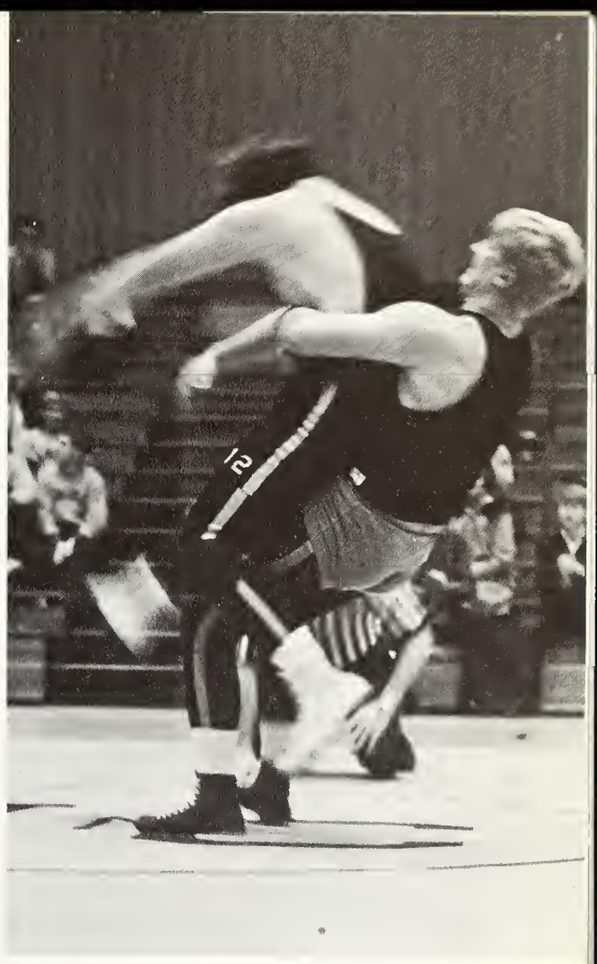
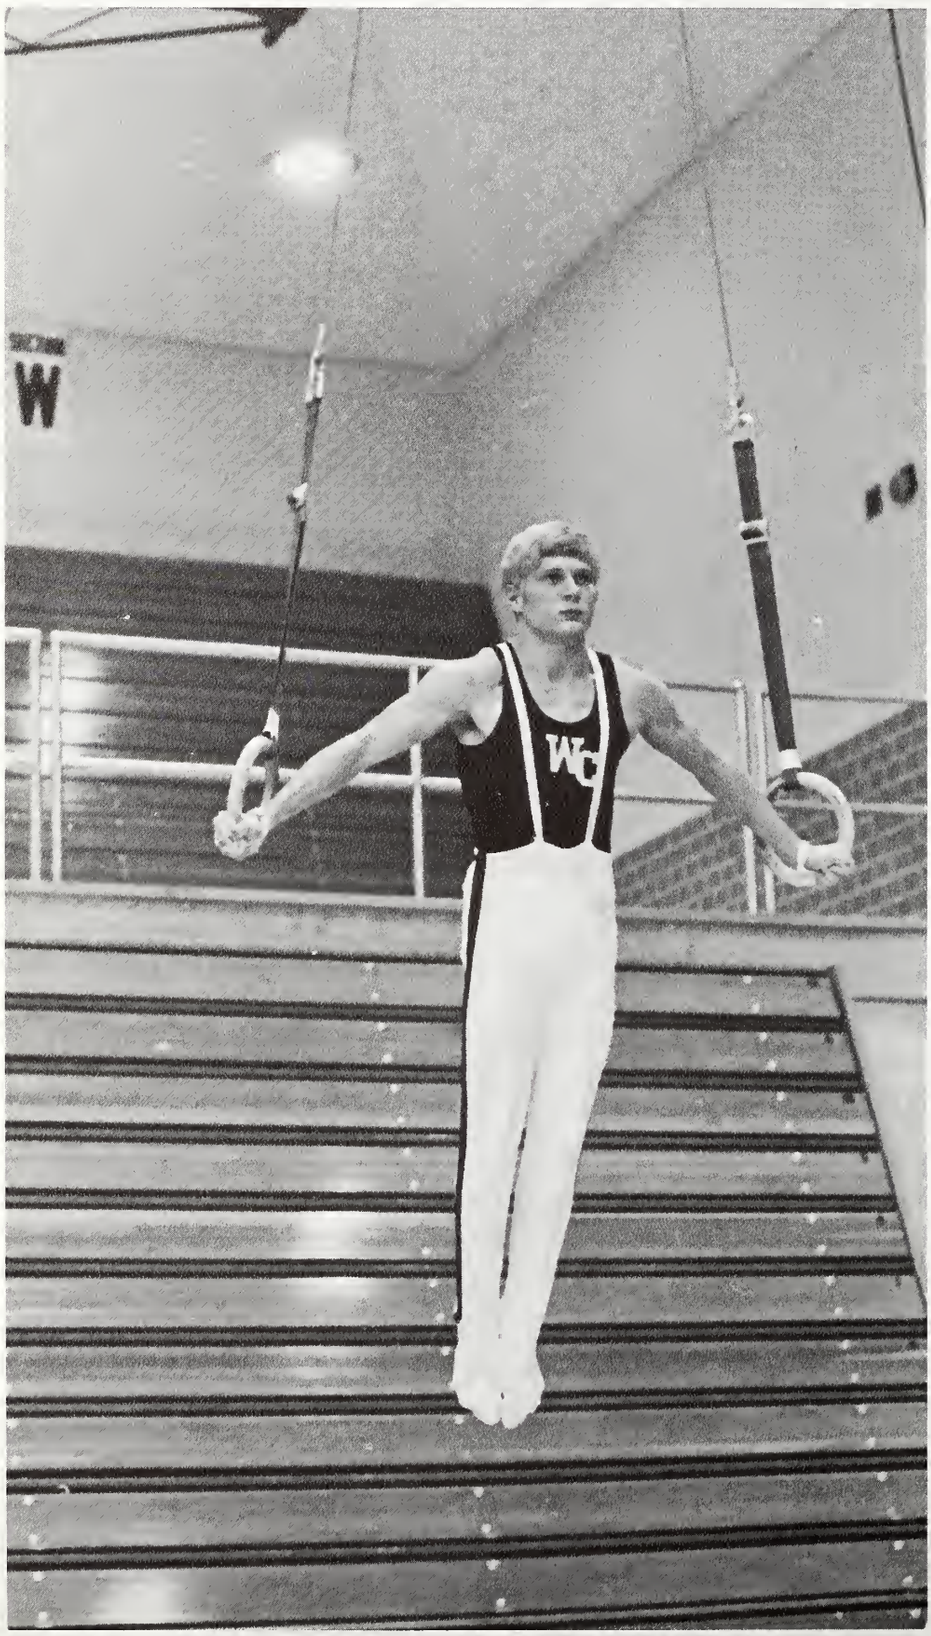
Senior grappler Randy Miller scores two points against his Arlington opponent. Miller also succeeded in taking the County Championship in his weight class.



Senior heavyweight Gary Wessling hoists an Arlington wrestler into the air as he tries for a take down in his quest for a victory.

Wrestling his way into the final match of the state championship meet Roger Noel became the first matman in Warren history to advance to second place. Roger's final personnel record was 22-3 for the year. Below, in the final match at Southport High School, Roger displays his winning form against his opponent from Franklin Central. Meeting for the third time this season Roger had previously won one match from the same player. This time Roger was defeated and had to settle for second place.

Gymnasts Display Outstanding Acrobatic Skill



Junior gymnast Randy Miller exhibits perfect form in demonstrating an Iron Cross. This maneuver not only requires a good deal of strength, but agility and poise.

Warren's gymnasts proved once again the old adage "it's not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game that counts" has not lost its meaning. Although the gymnasts were victorious only three meets, they displayed the spirit which is so very much a part of winning. Besides spirit, the boys used their skill, strength, poise, and agility to the best of their ability to show the competitive spirit that the Warren athletes possess.

Although the season seemed bright in the fact that the squad was ladened with sophomores, senior members Tom Wade, Ken Christie, and Jerry Brammann returned for their third and final year of competition. Wade scored well in the tumbling and free exercise, while Christie excelled on the parallel bars, and Brammann mastered the horse. Junior Randy Miller specialized on several pieces of apparatus, in particular the still rings and parallel bars, winning frequently on both. Juniors Mark Spangler and Rich Tomey displayed fine action in tumbling.

Junior Steve Smith gives full concentration during his horizontal bar routine. Steve has contributed a great deal to the team as he usually scores highly in dual meet competition.

GAA Exhibits

Skill, Coordination In Many Sports Activities

Many sports are offered for the sports-minded guys at Warren. The Girls Athletic Association is designed for the purpose of joining together athletic-minded girls.

GAA gives the girls chances to compete individually as well as in teams, which are of their own choosing. This promotes the ability of teamwork, a necessary asset in all sports.

Among the activities offered are tennis, archery, softball, badminton, volleyball, and gymnastics. Participation and development in these sports leads to the sportsmanship GAA exhibits.

Being a cheerleader can bring its rewards in many ways. Hard work on one cheer to reach perfection can take hours. New and old cheers echo through the empty halls many nights long after others have gone home to start homework or other classes.

A cheerleader has to display fine sportsmanship after the easy wins or the hard losses. She has to have patience and lots of spirit. Warren's cheerleaders set fine examples of how cheerleaders should be.

Warren Varsity Cheerleaders attended Smith-Walbridge Cheerleader Camp during the summer, where they learned many new cheers. Ideas for skits during pep sessions were also suggested along with the usual improvement of their cheers.

The camp prepared the spirit-boosters for the thrilling moments of our Warrior athletic events, and many new ideas were shared with the reserves upon their return. The hard work paid off during Sectionals

SENIOR LEAGUE CHAMPIONS—FIRST ROW: Dave Dixon, Chris Andrews, Jerry Hogan. SECOND ROW: Lenny Reed, Ron Hon, Rick Klein, Ernie Brewer.

Intramural basketball enjoyed another action-packed season which saw all three league champions go undefeated. In the Senior league, the Creamers remained undefeated for the third consecutive year, rolling over Gary Wessling's Bad Joses 37-31 to capture the Senior league title.

In the Junior league things were fast and furious, as two teams tied for second place in the final standings. A flip of the coin decided the playoff as the Oldies met the Nads in the preliminary game while the Fleas met the No-Names. The final game of the Junior league pitted the first place Nads against the second place Fleas. The game was decided after the final buzzer had sounded as Randy Miller hit a free throw toss as time expired, the final score ending 31-30.

In the Sophomore league, Captain Farley's Ragweed Circus remained undefeated throughout the season. The final game matched them with the second place Alfalfa's Twinder Binders. The Circus had little trouble in unbinding them by the score of 39-27 and in the process captured the league championship.

Under Direction Of Foreman,

Coach Don Foreman, who masterminds the Warriors' attack is shown here preparing the lineup for what he hopes will be a Warrior victory.

Although not known primarily for his hitting, Mike Warren's outstanding pitching contributed greatly to the fine showing of the Warriors during the season.

Although the Warriors' campaign did not yield a second consecutive sectional championship, it must be said that the season turned out bright.

The Warrior's hopes of a second championship seemed remote as the squad lost their first two outings of the season to city power Tech and county rival Southport. But the determined batsmen rebounded by winning the next four games, including a 9-2 drubbing of Lawrence Central and 13-5 defeat of eventual county champion Ben Davis.

The team closed out its season in fine style by winning three of their last five games, which included a 14-5 rout of Scecina and also a 1-0 squeaker from county foe North Central. This left the Warriors' season record at an impressive seven victories against four defeats.

A combination of fine pitching, timely hitting and great fielding led the squad. Pitchers Mike Warren, Ron Wainscott, and Mike Wright bore the pitching load while Marty Miggenburg and Gary Wessling were the big bats of the team. Slick fielding by Brian Boggs and Lenny Brickens also was a major factor in the fine season. In addition, All-County honors were given to Boggs and catcher Dick Warren.

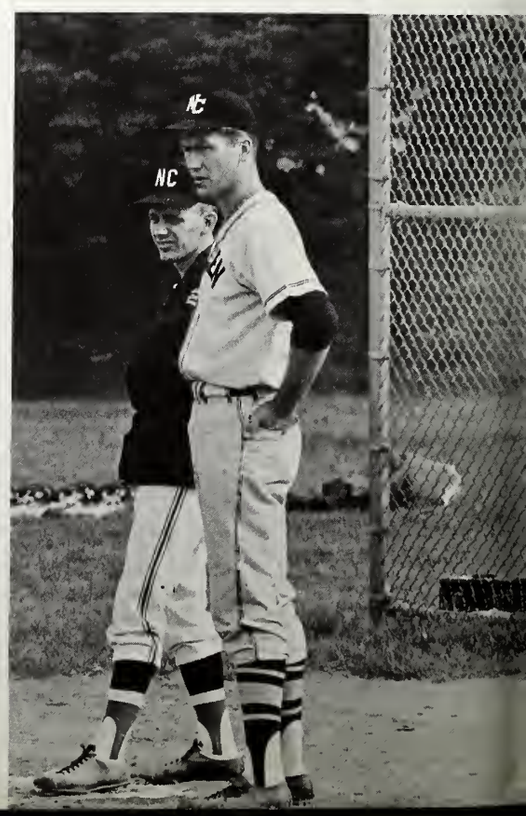
Below: Coach Robert Heady, who assumed the coaching chores this season, chats with the North Central coach about the progress of the game.



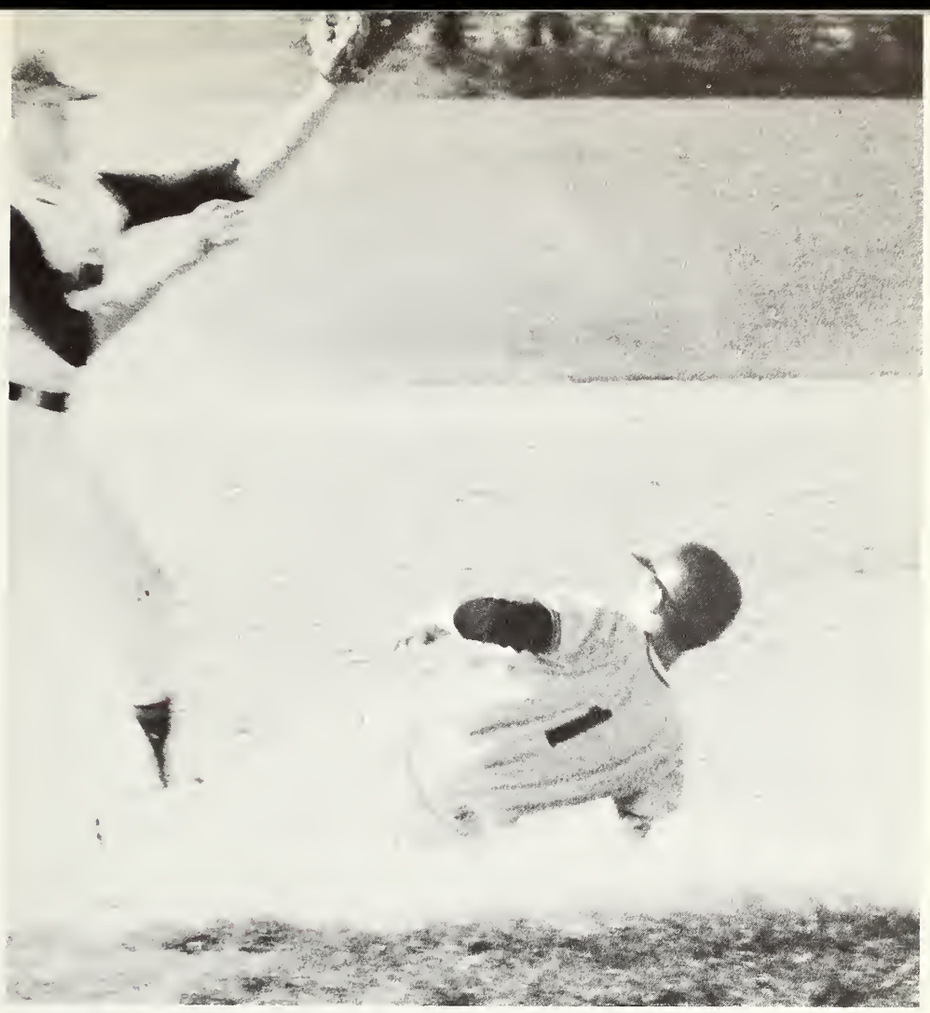
Unusual Year

The reserve baseball team, under first year reserve coach Robert Heady had expectations of a highly successful season. Their hopes, however, were somewhat drowned in the season opener as the "mini-Warriors" lost to a highly talented Southport team. But the team broke the ice in the second game by shutting out Chartrand 6-0, and winning two successive victories over Lawrence Central 3-0, and Ben Davis, 7-1.

Coach Heady's diamondmen then suffered a disappointing and heartbreaking loss to Tech, 11-10, in a game which lasted 9 innings.

The remainder of the season seemed to bring only bad luck to the little Warriors as they were defeated in three of the last four games of the season and by a total of only three runs. Several of their games were rained out.

Next year's varsity team should be enhanced by prospects as Tom Laster and Will Hansen, who handled the pitching chores for the squad. Lively bats were provided by Jim Minniear, Steve Dunn and Jeff Ginther, while Mike McDaniel and Dennis Kelly were the slick gloves on the team.



The ability to slide correctly can be the difference between a good ball player and a mediocre one. John Taylor displays this ability as he safely slides back to third base.

Cindermen

Practice, hard work, and the will to win. These three ingredients are needed to excel in any sport, and indeed the 1968 Warren track team did have all the qualities of a successful team as shown by their peformance. New school records were set in several events including the pole vault mark set by Marc Riggs with a vault of 12' 9" and the mile relay team composed of Steve Fox, Jon Bonsett, John Wray, and Jim Arvin in a blistering time of 3:31.4.

Although a better team than their record may indicate the cindermen did score impressive victories over such rivals as Scecina, 72-16 and managed to tie powerful city foe, Shortridge, by the score of 51-51.

Once again the team was led by "Mr. Do-Everything" Terry Woodburn, who competed in a total of four events including the broad jump, 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, and the relay team.

Warren's Varsity Track team was blessed with a fine crop of Sophomores who will be equally exciting to watch.

For Season

Varsity golf, which may be considered by some as a senior sport, can be overlooked no longer after recording its best showing in several years. Coach Ronald Roach's linksmen proved to be exceptionally fine competition during the 1968 season.

Seniors Rick Spilker, and Bill Lowes led off the roster for the Warriors'. Bill Gierke, Dan DeBruicker, Jeff Means, Ken Slater, and Blake Beldon also proved to be the best competition for any foe that challenged Warren's superiority.

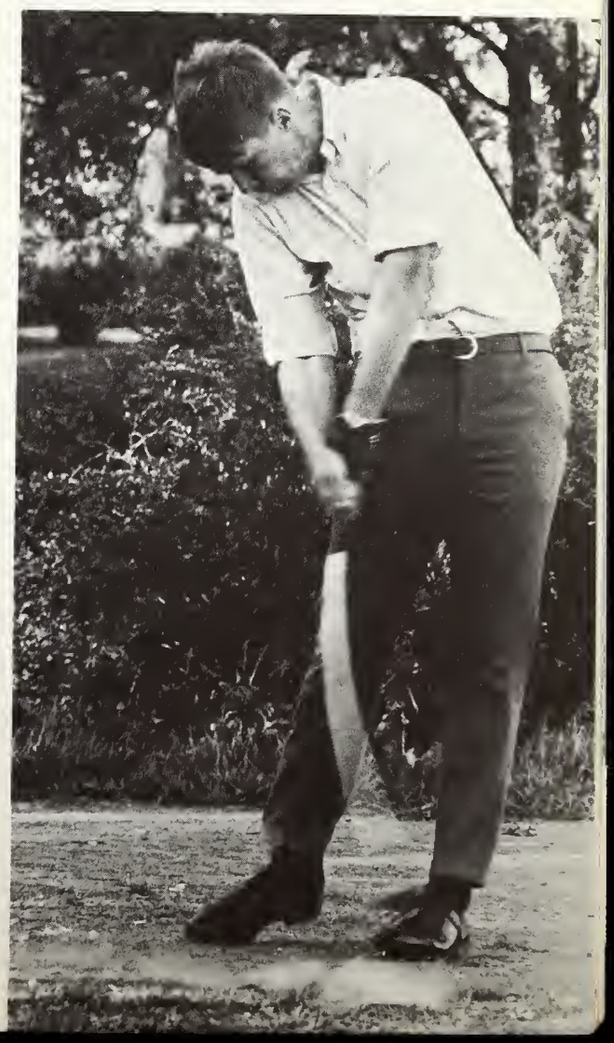
The season started off right with victories over Lawrence, Arlington, Pike, and Chartrand. After a minor upset with Speedway, Warren got back on the winning track with a streak of 3 wins. The Warriors had a little difficulty with the next two meets but came back with a win, then another defeat. The season was finally completed by twin 12-0 victories over Marshall and Fraklin Central.

Coach Roach's linksmen ended the season with a final record, of ten wins and four losses. The team has hopes of an even better season next year.

A correct follow-through is essential in driving. Ken Slater demonstrates his style.

Since form helps make a good or bad player, Rick Spilker shows the form which made him one of the leading linkmen.

1968 GOLF—FIRST ROW: Dave Kaler, Tom Bettge, Larry Bayless, Blake Beldon, Joe Frazier. SECOND ROW: Jeff Means, Ken Slater, Rick Spilker, Bill Lowes, Bill Gierke, Dan DeBruicker, Mark Stow.



Right: Power is needed to drive the ball to a fine season as Bill Lowes indicates in an example of the power that Warren linksmen possessed during the 1968 season.

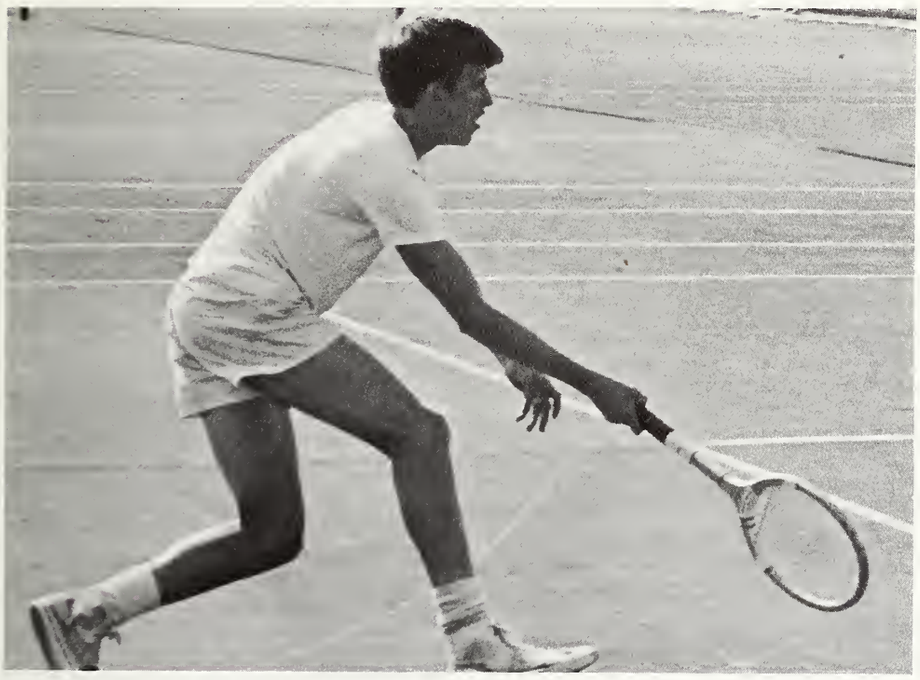
Lettermen Hold Key To Future



Rocky Robertson, fifth man on the squad, sends the ball screaming back across the net in hopes of a personal triumph as well as for a team victory.

Paul Ose prepares to serve the ball at his opponent as he hopes to chalk up a victory.

Warren's 1968 tennis team ended their trying season with a record of 4 wins and 10 losses. The reason for the unimpressive showing by the racketmen seemed to be in the fact that the team was composed mainly of underclassmen with senior Art Hill faithfully leading the team as captain. He was, however, taken out of play as a result of an injury attained during practice.

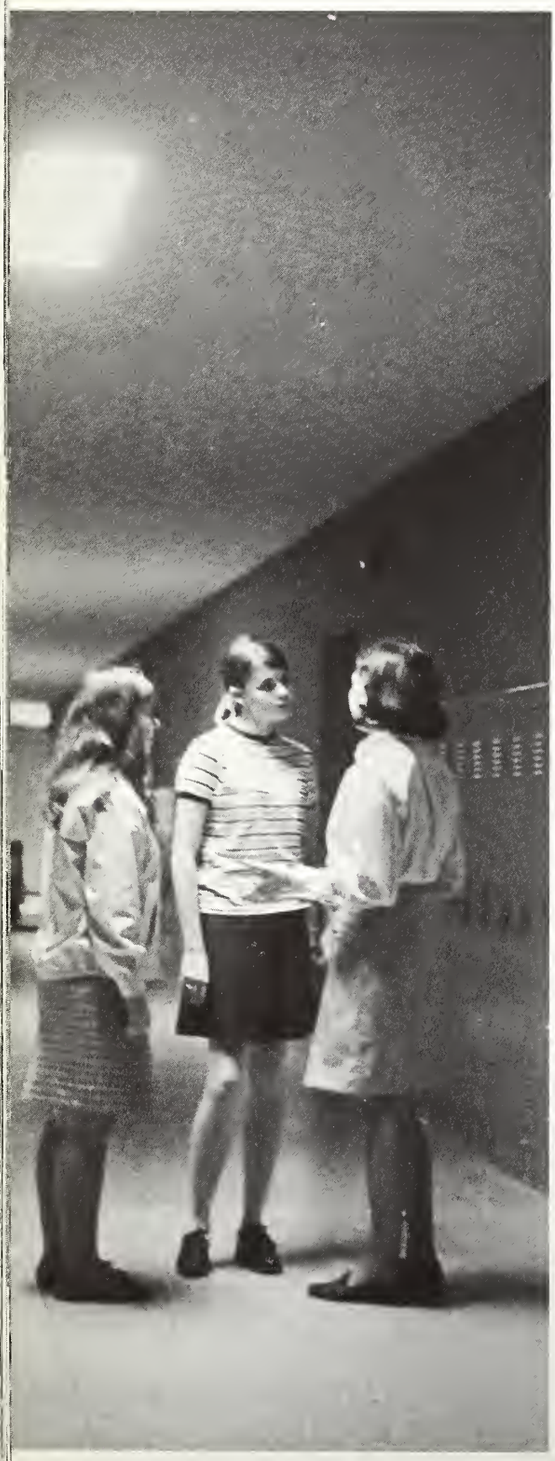
Underclassman Steve Oldham captured the first place spot on the team, and along with his teammates, kept the winning spirit which is traditional at Warren Central.

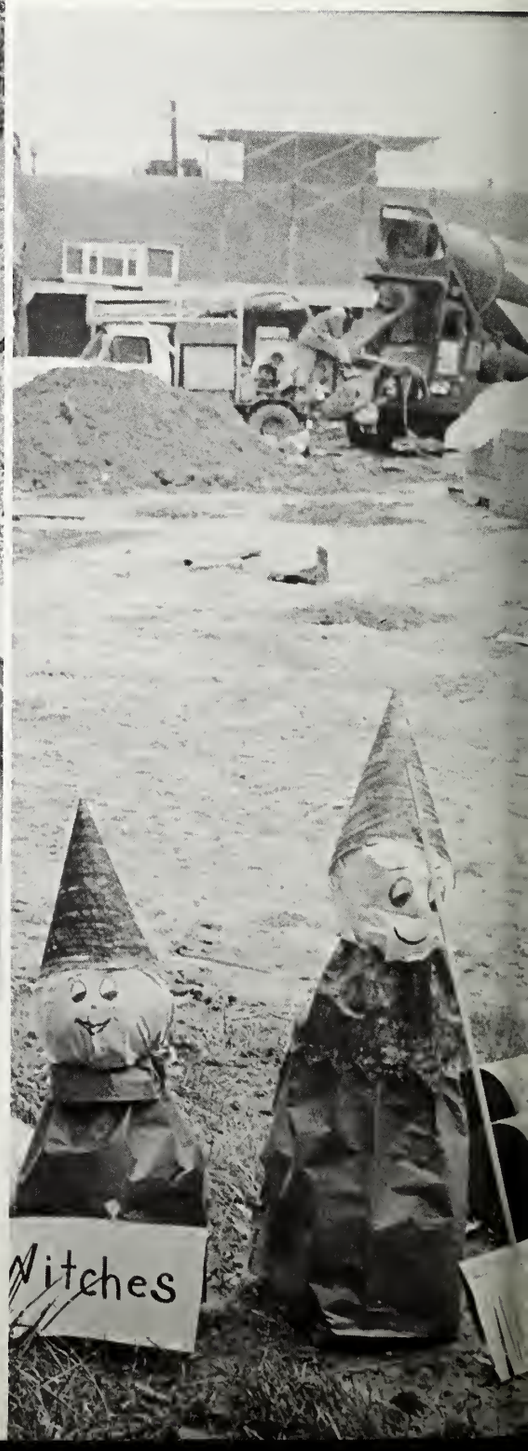
Senior Dave Stroud took second place honors on the squad, while Paul Ose, the individual scoring leader on the team, held third man position.

Fourth place was won by Jim Larner, who was followed closely by Rocky Robertson.

With most of these lettermen returning, next year's team will be comprised of several veteran players. The squad should make a much better showing and bring the feeling of winning back to Coach Larry Willen's racketmen and restore the spirit which is vital to success.

Art Hill proves his tennis ability by exhibiting a perfect backhand.





Witches

Youth
Crying to be accepted;
lonely in a room
crowded with people, spectators
of a life they wish they knew.
Friendship
A ring, more precious than any of silver or gold,
molded with people.
Youth
Merely touching the minds that they seek to explore,
so as to know themselves.
Leaders
Children in their need for fellowship and friends.

Administration Contributes Much Time, Effort

Mr. Edward H. Cuddy and Mr. Austin E. Walker, Assistant Superintendent and Superintendent, respectively, work together in solving the problems of schools in the Metropolitan School District of Warren Township.

The Warren Township Administration building is a busy place any time of the year. During the summer months, while the students and faculty take leisurely vacations from the drudgery of learning, the administration building is kept active by its workers. They must act as prophets for the oncoming school year. They try to decide how many students will be rushing through the doors of Warren Central, Creston, Woodview, and nine elementary schools. They then try to determine the number of teachers they will need, books they must buy, classes they must originate, desks they must replace, and buses they must procure.

The arrival of Fall means school and the task of coordinating all the activities of the schools in Warren Township. The school board acts as the axis of external and internal activities of the schools.

The winter months are similar to the fall, with a little less panic. Spring brings the thought of the end of school and a welcome sigh of relief from the administrative offices, because another year has passed with as few as possible interruptions.

To Accomplish Warren's Goals

Taking time from their busy schedules for only a moment are (seated) Mr. Obert Piety, Assistant Dean of Boys, and Mrs. Vanlila Lockwood, Assistant Dean of Girls. Standing are Mrs. Carol Montgomery, Dean of Girls, and Mr. Clifford Gates, Dean of Boys.

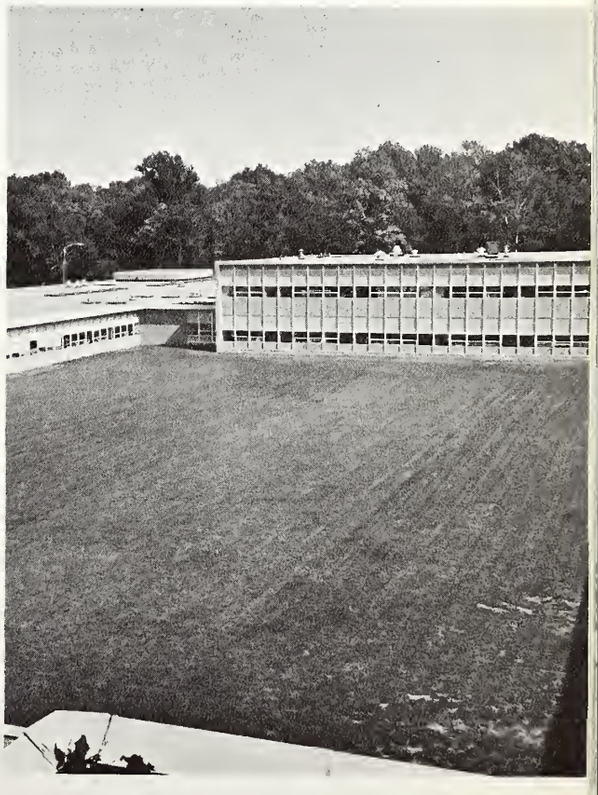
Tackling school problems and preparing for special events is only part of Mr. Reed's job as principal at Warren Central High School.

Warren Central has an administrative staff which is ready to serve the student body whenever the need arises. The main office is the center of extra-curricular activities, academic programs, and supply distribution. Students needing minor aids such as directions, advice, and supplies may secure them there as well as any articles lost and found.

Morning announcements come daily over the P.A. system, which is adjacent to the main office. Mail coming into the office is distributed to its designated areas. Teachers from various departments can be observed picking up their daily notices in their personal mailboxes.

Bells, which begin and dismiss all classes, are programmed through the main office.

The main office harbors the key personnel of Warren Central. They coordinate all activities between any of the departmental areas and schedule the classes for the year to come.



"Supervised by the administration, various classes were moved as construction began, early in the summer in the above area."

Senior Council Coordinates Ultimate Events

The year we had dreamed of for twelve years had finally become a reality. We were Seniors and 1969 was our year.

Our Warrenite-years set the stage for a lifetime of memories as we remembered our days as sophomores, juniors, and most of all, seniors. As sophomores, we found that life at Warren was far from dull, due to all the activities in and out of school. As juniors, we familiarized ourselves with the ways of the teachers and Warren itself. We enjoyed the freezing rain of football games and the echo of screaming excitement during basketball season.

As seniors, we began planning for an ever-nearing future. Thoughts of college and business filled much of our time. Our calendars began to fill up with events from the Councils. Time passed far too fast in our Senior year.

Of the many events which surrounded our last Warren year, the decision of pictures, Senior keys, and cards and announcements added to our busy days. The excitement of college entrance tests, measuring for caps and gowns, and the planning of our final Prom made us awaken to a not-so-distant future.

Many awards and honors were presented to our outstanding Seniors in many different areas. Some displayed a small portion of our talents in our class play, "The State of the Union."

We faced the question of what we wanted to become after the completion of high school. The decision between education and business confused many, while some decided their future career after their experiences in exploratory teaching. Thoughts of our numbered days as seniors excited and worried all of us.

The subjects required throughout our high school years will bring back memories of classroom fun and seriousness. Our math, English, science, government and even study hall classes will bring laughter in the future as we relive our three years at Warren.

Selecting the "perfect" cards and announcements for graduation is one of the exclusive decisions Warren seniors make.

As the final curtains were drawn on our high school days, we began a new play. We had a feeling of excitement being under the more important spotlights of a bright and dim world. As we, the cast, collected our programs from past years, we also collected precious memories from our past experiences.

The memories of going to our first and last Warrior games, the excitement of a pep session, or the strange atmosphere of tears and happiness in the midst of receiving our diplomas, will live on in our hearts and minds forever. Yet, the memories we will cherish most are those moments we spent with our friends at the games, in class, or at home. We will always treasure the thoughts of the teasing and seriousness that grew between us, thinking back on the fun we knew, and mostly the hesitant good-byes we said at graduation, knowing that our paths may never cross again.

All of these memories, big and small, set the stage for a beautiful play that ended in a standing ovation for us . . . the unforgettably wonderful class of 1969.

Warren Central boys learn the basic fundamentals of fair play and good sportsmanship by participating in intramural basketball.

ABOVE: Happy and excited Markita Patrick waits as 1967 Prom King, Mike Warren, places the crown upon her head as Queen of the 1968 Junior Prom.

Prom Courts

During the past year 30 girls and 16 boys were nominated for a title of royalty. Queens were needed for Spring, Fall and Winter Homecoming, and Junior Miss Pageants. The guys filled the role of King Tuobanrut at the Turnabout Dance. Together, King and Queen candidates attended such functions as the Junior Prom, The Heart Fund Dance and the annual Tudor Madrigal Dinner.

This year's Seniors will recall the night of April 19 as their Junior Prom. "Love is Blue," as the prom theme set the mood for the night highlighted by the crowning of Terry Woodburn and Markita Patrick as King and Queen. 1967 Junior Prom King Mike Warren and Queen Connie Beinburg did the honor of crowning.

The end of September brought Fall Homecoming with it. A week before the special night, five senior girls were nominated for the title of homecoming queen. The next week was filled with poster making and campaigning. September 27, Shirley Honeycutt was named the 1968 Fall Homecoming Queen. She and her court ruled over the remainder of the Warren and Arlington game and the sock hop.

ABOVE: After a week of campaigning, Shirley Honeycutt was named 1968 Fall Homecoming Queen. For the remainder of the night, Shirley reigned over homecoming activities.

English Pupils Feast, Carolyn Wins Crown

ABOVE: Ruling over all the festive activities of last December's Tudor Madrigal Dinner were King Rick Klein and Queen Markita Patrick.

One of the highlights of the school year is the Tudor Madrigal Dinner sponsored by the English department. This banquet, held in December, invites students and faculty members to be creative in their costumes. Dressed in their 18th century clothing, all participants enjoyed this traditional Yule Holiday. Ceremonies during the dinner included crowning of the King and Queen, dubbing of the Lord of Misrule by the Queen, the Wassail Ceremony and the bearing of the Boar's Head and the Yule Log. Completing the festive occasion, the Madrigals and the Tudor players entertained with songs and a cutting from Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew."

This year Carolyn Morgan, senior, competed in the Indianapolis Junior Miss Pageant held in Frankfort. Also being named Miss Junior Achievement of Central Indiana, Carolyn competed with 38 girls from the Indianapolis area to win the title of Indianapolis Junior Miss. Because Carolyn won the city contest, she was awarded a $750.00 scholarship.

BELOW: Leading off the events of the Tudor Dinner were the Warren Madrigal singers. The singers preceded the other participants in the processional of singing before any other ceremonies.

Displaying the talents she acquired by working in NFL, Carolyn does a brief cutting of the Broadway play, "Stop the World—I Want to Get Off."

"I'm a typically English rosebud!" But, she is anything but typical. Perhaps "delightfully unique" is a tactful way of putting it.

Carolyn smiles with pride on hearing that her roommate, Alison Van Nada, has been crowned Indiana Junior Miss.

Homecoming,

Campaigning for the election of the 1969 Winter Homecoming Queen proved to be exciting. Friday, January 31 will bring many memories in the future for Queen Nancy Dorsey. Nancy reigned over four other Senior girls who were Sharon Green, Mary Murphy, Judy Pavey, and Sally Wuensch. The excitement of the homecoming game set the atmosphere for the following sockhop which featured Sir Roderick's Following and The Unexpected.

The responsibility of planning the 1969 Turnabout Dance was met by the Junior Class, making it a very eventful dance. From an all-guy court, King Tuobanrut was elected to reign over the night's proceedings.

Markita Patrick and Tom Wade were elected to represent Warren at the Heart Board Dance. The city-wide dance was held to help collect money for the Heart Fund for Marion County.

LEFT: A squeal of joy was heard as Sharon Mills crowns her successor Nancy Dorsey as 1969 Winter Homecoming Queen.

Turnabout, Heartboard Candidates Chosen

To all high school students, the Junior year is very important. The first decision to be made by this year's Junior class was the election of class officers. These officers worked together with Mr. John Bass to provide for successful meetings.

The Junior council is faced with the problem of selecting a style of ring which will please the majority of the Junior class. The council, which consists of one boy and girl from each Junior homeroom, again chose the "dome" style ring. Each Junior is faced with the problem of choosing what style and what color his own ring would be. In December, the Juniors received their rings admiring them for weeks.

In March, the Juniors had their annual Turnabout Dance in the cafeteria. This time the boys had their chance and a king was crowned.

Plans for the Junior Prom continued to be made throughout the year and after much consideration, it was decided that the prom would be held at the Southside Knights of Columbus on April 26.

Through the leadership of President Bill Anthis, the Junior Council made many decisions concerning the junior class.

As sophomores enter Warren Central High School, they come in contact with a world entirely different from junior high. They gain new knowledge and assume many responsibilities.

Being a Sophomore presents its problems, but all Warrenites admit it is worth it.

With the construction this year, it was more difficult for the new Warrenites to find their way around. Some Sophomores found it hard to find time for all the various notebooks and projects required.

They also learned that the amount of homework is increased after getting to Warren. Soon the sophomores find that they must make extra time to get in all their school work in order to complete the requirements for graduation.

At Warren, sophomores find clubs and extracurricular activities more plentiful than at Creston or Woodview. This variety of clubs allows each sophomore a chance to develop his individual interests during his sophomore year.

Sophomores find that making World History projects for class is an interesting break from regular classroom routine.

Warren's Lovely Queens

Security Is WC Patronage, Honored Service, and Profit.

Bob Rohrman wonders if anything will ever get that apron clean, but CROWN LAUNDRY knows it can, 2901 E. Washington, 637-3331.

Vicki Brothers and Marcia Fogleman take a break from shopping at BARGAIN BARN, LIBERTY BELL STORES, 8949 East Washington, 898-3180.

Warrenites need to feel secure when they are dealing with a business firm. They need to know that the products they buy will work and last longer.

MAX GALLOWAY STUDIOS take the pictures of the seniors plus many pictures for the activities section and academics. Prom pictures and queen pictures are taken by him also.

BARGAIN BARN offers the students of Warren a variety of items.

CROWN LAUNDRY AND DRY CLEANING is a place where the students know that their clothes will be carefully cleaned.

There are things which a girl must have available to her anytime that the desire strikes to use them. Judy Pavey tries on a new scent at the POST ROAD PHARMACY. They have cosmetics, stationery, drugs, jewelry, and a toy department for the kids. POST ROAD PHARMACY, 2117 N. Post Road, 898-1380.

Availability Is Swift Service To WC Youth

Teenagers are often trapped by the availability of a product because of their age. However, our advertisers have tried to show that they will make available everything possible to the students of Warren Central.

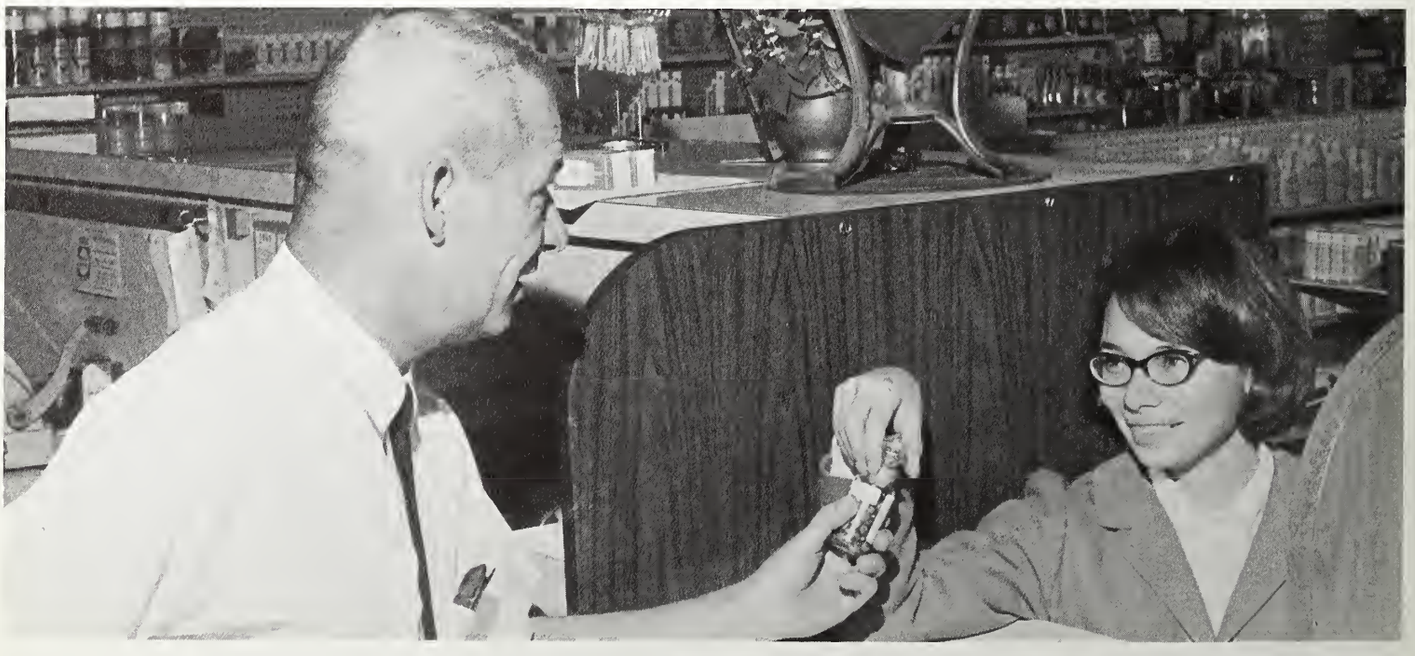
POST PHARMACY has an excellent drug department. They have modern equipment which will increase their efficiency to their patrons.

KROETZ PHARMACY has a complete selection of merchandise from candy to perfume. They have a beautiful new store located just east of Cumberland.

POST ROAD GREENHOUSE does a lot to make sure that the flowers they send for proms will please any girl's fancy.

SEVEN-UP is the "Uncola" that refreshes Warrenites throughout the year.

Availability can be found in the businesses advertised here.



The people at KROETZ DRUGS have the right prescription for whatever ails a person. Sue Caldwell told the druggist that she wasn't feeling very peppy, so the druggist suggested that she take a vitamin every morning. Sue smiled at the thought. KROETZ DRUGS has a variety of products to offer its customers. They not only sell drugs, but they also sell any supplies you might need for some late night cramming. 12010 E. Washington, 894-7688.

Skip Schliesman holds the dachshund in a bouquet of flowers. The tiny dog assists in the making of corsages at POST ROAD GREEN HOUSE. Skip's father owns the greenhouse. The flowers they arrange are beautiful for any occasion. They have potted plants which are grown in their own greenhouses. 1105 N. Post Road, 898-6863.

SEVEN-UP is the "Uncola" drink that always has a taste that is wet and wild. The shape of the container does not alter taste.

Service Is Well Appreciated By Warrenites

Karen Temple really didn't rent this from TEMPLE RENTS, but she did use their equipment to rebuild it. TEMPLE RENTS carries a complete selection of tools. 4401 East Washington Street, 357-8033 and 3335 West Washington Street, 356-6363.

Jim Henninger selects a card from the shelves at BELL'S PHARMACY. Jim knows that they have the best. 8970 East 10th, 898-9513.

Below: "Things go better with Coke" is a familiar slogan heard in the halls of Warren Central. Coca-Cola Bottling Company

The youth of today do not have the time to patronize the advertiser who does not give courteous service to teens as well as adults.

When the drama department or the clubs at Warren need a tool, they go to TEMPLE RENTS where they have a wide selection and top quality tools.

BELL'S PHARMACY is a convenient place to shop for school supplies and cosmetic needs. They have efficient prescription service also.

Lumber in every shape, size and kind can be found at CUMBERLAND LUMBER CO., INC. They have the time to help in the selection of the type of lumber needed for a job.

The COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY delivers the cokes to the school that refresh Warrenites at the football and basketball games.

Savings Please All WC Faculty And Pupils

Above: Bob "Bat" Masterson takes a leisurely break from the strain of coaching basketball. He refreshes himself with a cool, tall glass of milk. The coaches all know that milk is the best drink to build healthy athletes and to keep the coaches going. They suggest that everyone drink at least three glasses of milk a day. The girls are advised to drink milk also, so they can keep up with the boys.

Mark Britner and Jim Minniear take a look at the new fashions for men. Mark dons a Nehru, while Jim sticks to the more conservative coat. The fashions at HUDSON'S MEN'S WEAR are the latest style and they are also altered to fit. Eastgate, 898-1176.

Cars, clothes and dating are expenses of the average teenager at Warren. With these expenditures to pay, they try to save money in every other possible area.

HUDSON'S MEN'S WEAR offers its customers savings on clothes for men and boys. They give more value for less cost.

The RADIO CORPORATION OF AMERICA in Indianapolis is the home of RCA. They train and employ the youth of today offering them better pay and benefits. They also manufacture many of the records which the teens play daily on their stereos.

The products of our advertisers can save Warrenites money, time and energy.

RCA

institution, too!

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

Teresa Smith and Pat McDivitt take a look at the new cars for 1969. They entered the CROSS COUNTRY RAMBLER and explored the inside of the car dealer's showplace. They found cars that could easily fit the budget of a teenage boy or girl.

Above: Teresa and Pat drive out in a new car given to them for a day by Teresa's dad, Dick Smith. It's fun while it lasts.

Below: CROSS COUNTRY RAMBLER is the place to go for new car deals. 7803 East Washington Street, 357-8484.

A serviceman showed them the inside of the car and explained the working parts of the engine. They discovered new things.

Quality Is Expected By Students At Warren

Frank Pedigo gets instructions from a teacher at CENTRAL BUSINESS COLLEGE. The machines and teachers at CENTRAL BUSINESS COLLEGE can give careful and precise business instruction. 802 N. Meridian, 634-8337.

PRUDENTIAL LIFE INSURANCE is steady as the Rock of Gibraltar. Janet Wolfgang and Patti Spear believe it. 505 National Ave. 783-2355.

Students pay for quality, and they expect it. The teenagers spend 18 billion dollars a year. They deserve quality products.

CROSS COUNTRY RAMBLER has quality cars in a low price range. The customers get more for their money when they buy there. Students find Ramblers within their budget.

The INDIANA BUSINESS COLLEGE will give top-notch training in the clerical practices. Their students receive the training they will need for their future employment.

Quality claim service is the claim from PRUDENTIAL LIFE INSURANCE. They know what coverage their customers need.

Quality is necessary to the Warren students, because they want lasting products. Quality products bring a quantity of Warren customers.

Dependability Is Helpful Service To Warren Central Students

Wendy Wiseman beams at the thought of the party she is having. Her friend looks sad as he thinks of groceries he'll carry. WALT'S SUPERMARKET, 8702 East Washington Street.

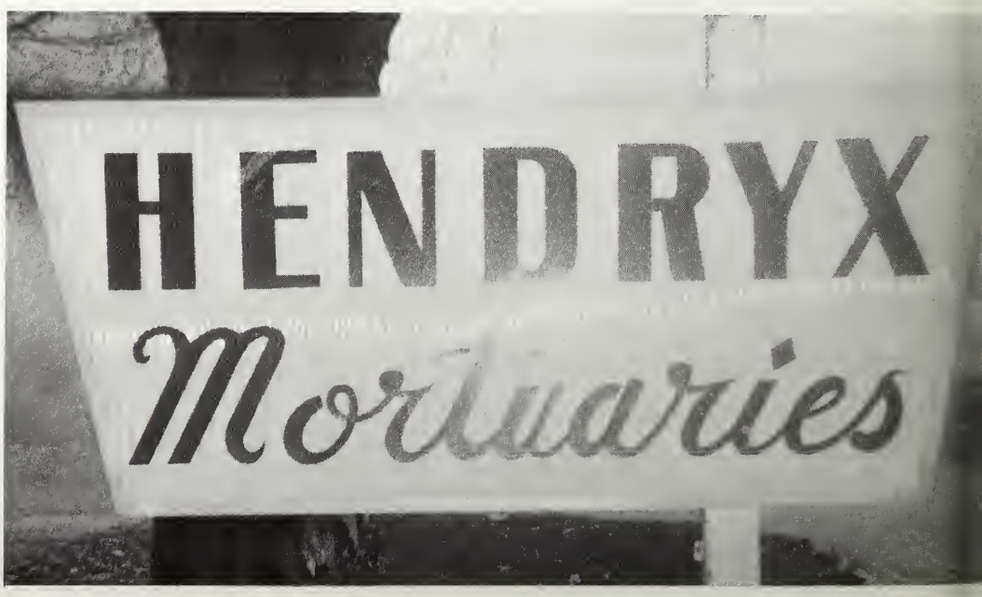
Mike Berry looks sad as he holds the locks of hair that the barbers have cut from his head. Mike knows it will grow back, and the barbers know Mike will come back. DUNLAP BARBER SHOP, Eastgate, 357-0856.

WALT'S SUPERMARKET has courteous service and helpful attendants. The students of WCHS feel courtesy is the keynote to patronage for a firm.

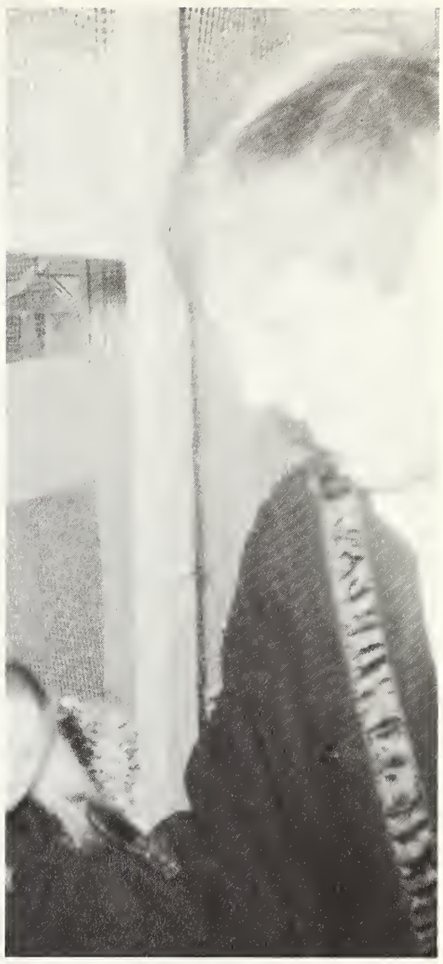
The IRVINGTON SEED AND PET SHOP offers its customers a variety of pets from which to choose. Birds whistle at the ladies, and puppies lick their hands. There are boas and lizards for boys.

MIGGENBURG'S BAKERY will bake cookies to your liking or licking.

Security is a byproduct of these firms.



Right: HENDRYX MORTUARY takes time to extend congratulations to the Class of '69. They wish them the best for the future. Cumberland.



Above left: Debbie Wilson found a lizard could be a harmless house pet and friend. Center: A monkey ate playfully from the owner's hand. Above right: Scott Watt was finally enticed by the monkey to pet her. The IRVINGTON SEED AND PET SHOP has many interesting pets to buy. They also have a dog trimming service. They can supply the pet you need to keep you company. 6109 East Washington Street, 359-9289.

Marty Miggenburg and Denise Stevens, 1968 graduates, assist Mary Jane Huffman as she tries to decide which donuts to have for her breakfast. Mary buys the soft drinks for her Friday night slumber party. MIGGENBURG'S BAKERY has a donut and roll for every occasion. 8502 East Washington Street, 898-3737.

Dependability Creates Lasting WC Patronage

Steve Bledsoe tries to decide which umbrella would be more stylish, but it is a difficult decision at EDRICH'S LTD since everything is in style. EDRICH'S LTD has the latest fashions for men in sportswear and for dress occasions. 8139 Pendleton Pike, 898-1441.

The boys at Warren often rent tuxedos from EDRICH'S LTD., or they buy school clothes there.

DAUGHERTY'S BRIDAL SHOPPE is a popular place with the girls hunting formals for the prom. Future plans might take them there for wedding dresses.

COLONEL'S CARRY-OUT advertises that their chicken is "finger lickin' good for senior and junior picnics."

The LAWRENCE AUTO CO., INC. is a familiar firm to any of the students who braved the Drivers' Education course at Warren. The cars they drove carry the bumper sign advertising the LAWRENCE AUTO CO., INC. who provides our cars. That may be the most dreaded sign for those already licensed drivers on the road.

Students at Warren look for dependability in a firm, but they are also dependent upon the products provided.

This dress worn by Nancy Mosier reflects quality at DAUGHERTY'S BRIDAL SHOPPE, 5532 East Washington Street, 357-6971.

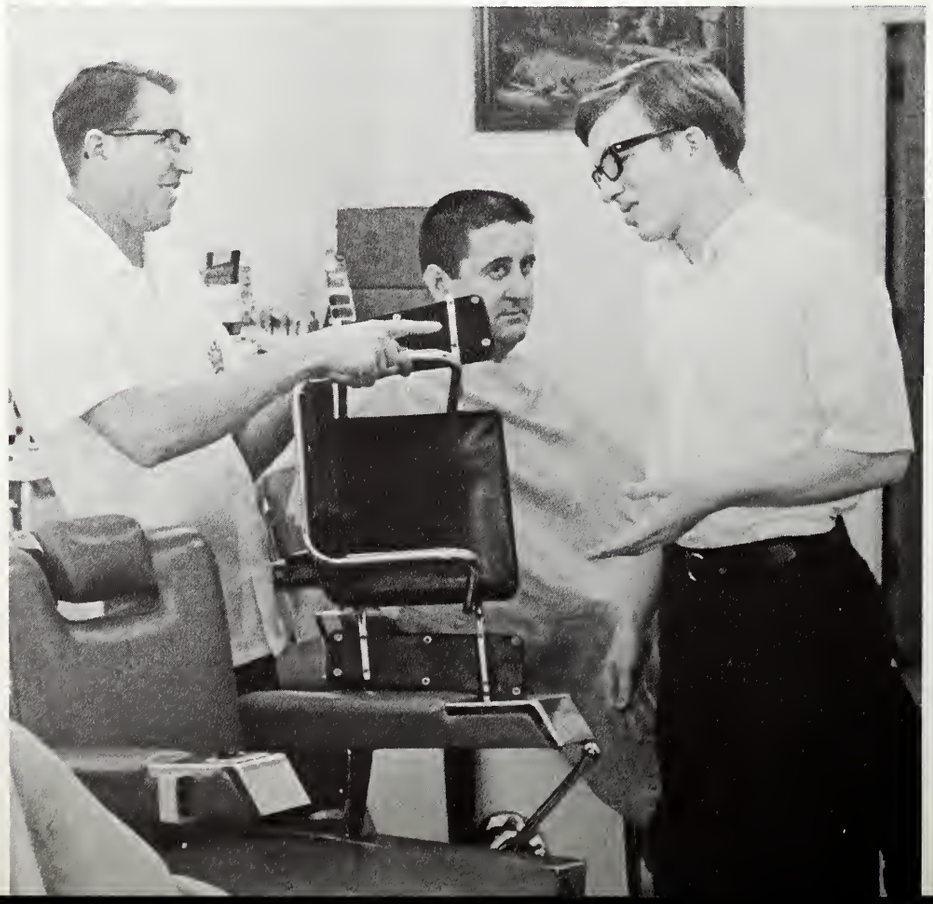
Senior picnics are always fun, but they can be delicious! Sally Wuensch made a smart decision when she called COLONEL'S CARRY-OUT and asked them to do the cooking for her. Mike McDaniel makes the purchase from Gail Morris, whose parents own many of the KENTUCKY FRIED CHICKEN stores throughout the city. Gail gives Mike and Sally a warm smile and a barrel of chicken. 1812 North Arlington Avenue, 353-2157.

Linda Dusick and George Duncan display the road signs which are used by the Drivers' Education Teachers, Mr. Frank DeBruicker and Mr. Robert Heady. The cars for Drivers' Education come from LAWRENCE AUTO CO., INC., 8550 Pendleton Pike, 898-7474.

Thrifty Buying

Bill Lantz and Dave Broecker take a break from the monotony of photography to enjoy themselves in the cockpit of a plane. POST AIR AVIATION provided the plane for them to study. They charter planes and ship freight. 1410 S. Post Road, 897-1343.

Sheri Goodwin smiles cheerfully as she picks up her cleaning from ALERT CLEANERS, where cleaning is fast. 2121 N. Post Road, 898-1176.



Bill Mulford asks, "Do I have to?" POST PLAZA BARBER SHOP is always helpful in all ways. 2121 N. Post Road, 898-4874.

Is Practiced By Warrenites

Neil Phillippe wants an insurance policy that will cover him if the need arises. He knows that boys have a particular problem when it come to insurance. This is why he chose to take out a policy with the WOODIE COLEMAN AGENCY, 9602 East 24th Street, 898-5634.

Warrenites love the thought of adventure of which flying is just a part. POST AIR AVIATION makes this kind of adventure possible. There, they specialize in air ambulance service, selling, shipping, instructing and aerial photography.

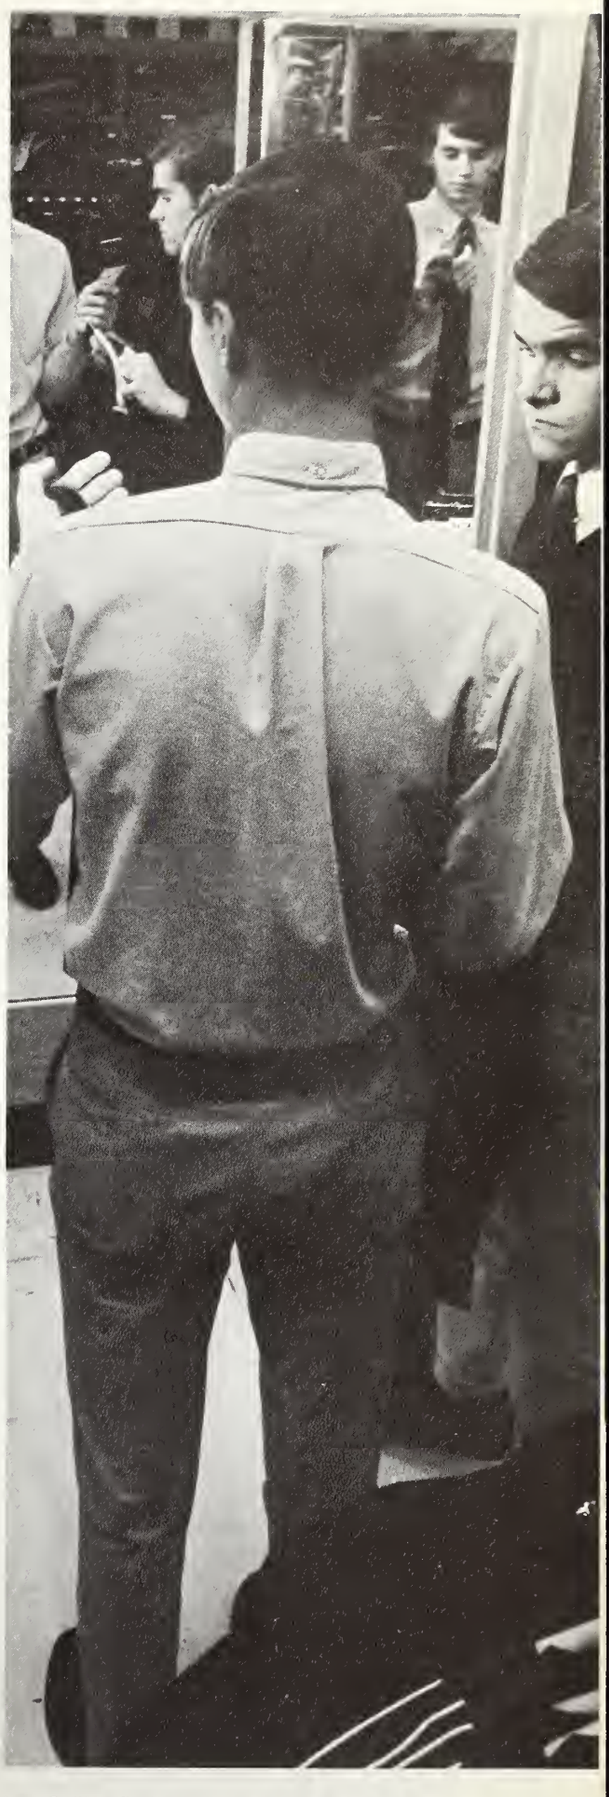
POST PLAZA BARBER SHOP cuts hair in the latest styles. The barbers are pleasant and comical and cut to your specifications.

Clothes come cleaner at ALERT CLEANERS, regardless of whether they are cheerleading uniforms or prom dresses. At ALERT, they take special care of your clothes.

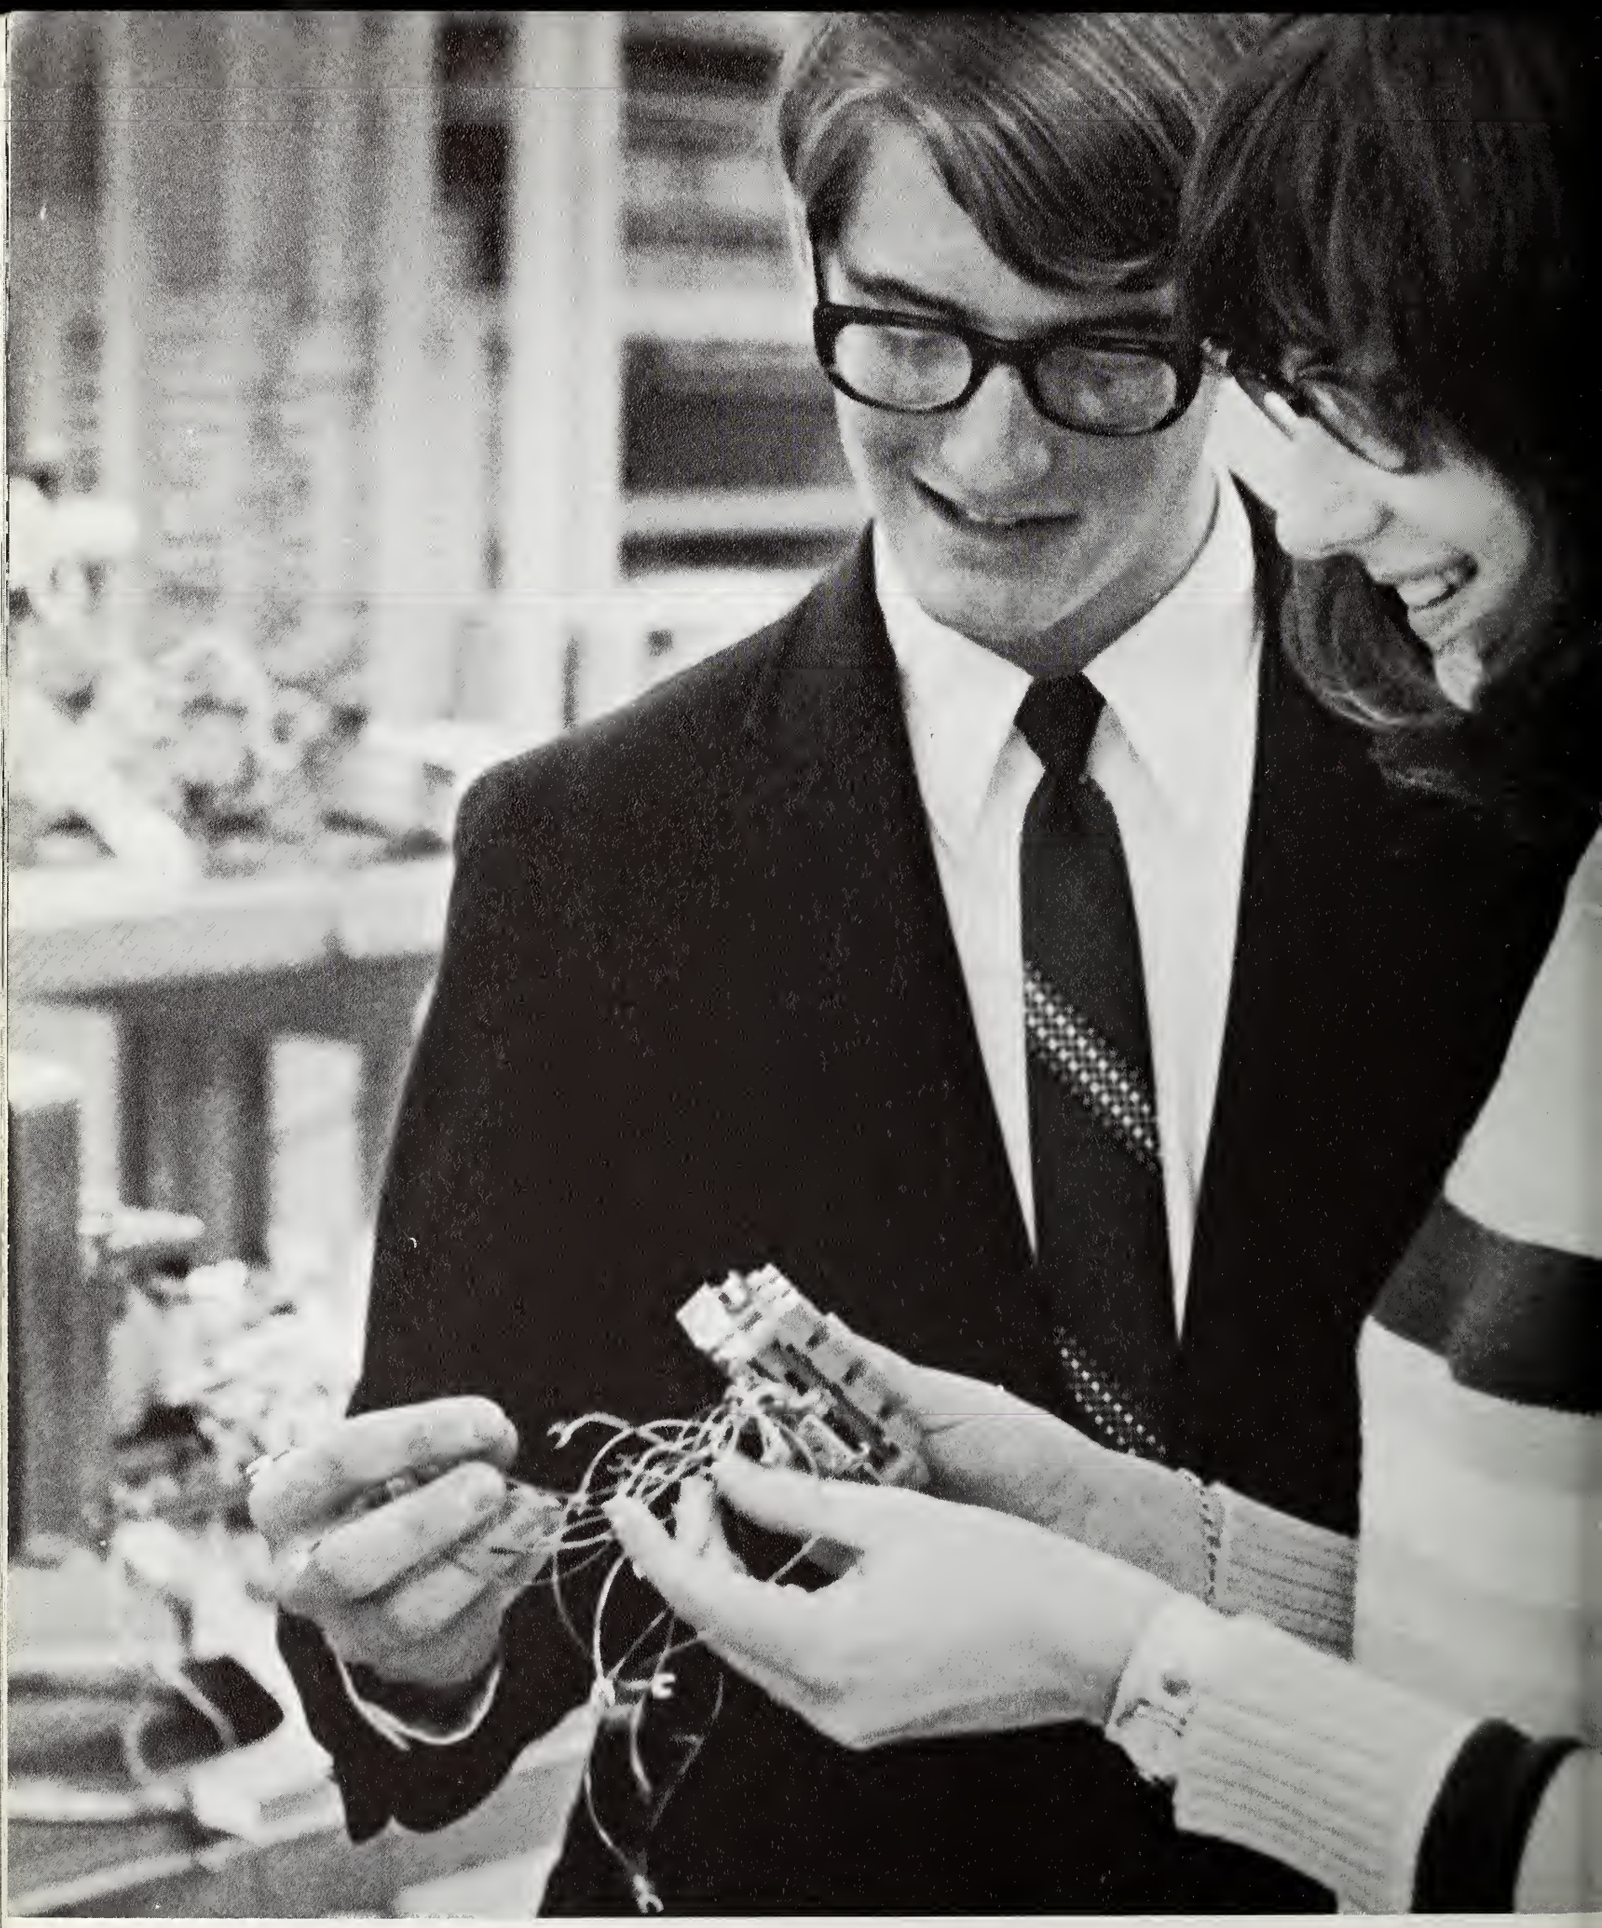
WOODIE COLEMAN AGENCY has policies for any casualty. Insurance you can trust is their practice.

The salesmen at LEVINSON'S look their best because their clothes are purchased there.

Thrift must be practiced if the student expects to get the most out of life and especially high school days, which are preparation for future years.



Lee Collier finds selecting the right tie and sports jacket is easier from the wide choice at LEVINSON'S, Eastgate, 359-8000.



Juniors Glenda Griebelbauer and Dan McKee are seen in the Model Shop at WESTERN ELECTRIC. They saw the new Picturephone and visited with their fathers, who are employed at the company's Indianapolis Works. The Picturephone, one of many Bell System products manufactured at the Shadeland Avenue plant, will be available to the public in the 1970's.

Reliability In Firms Makes A WC Patron

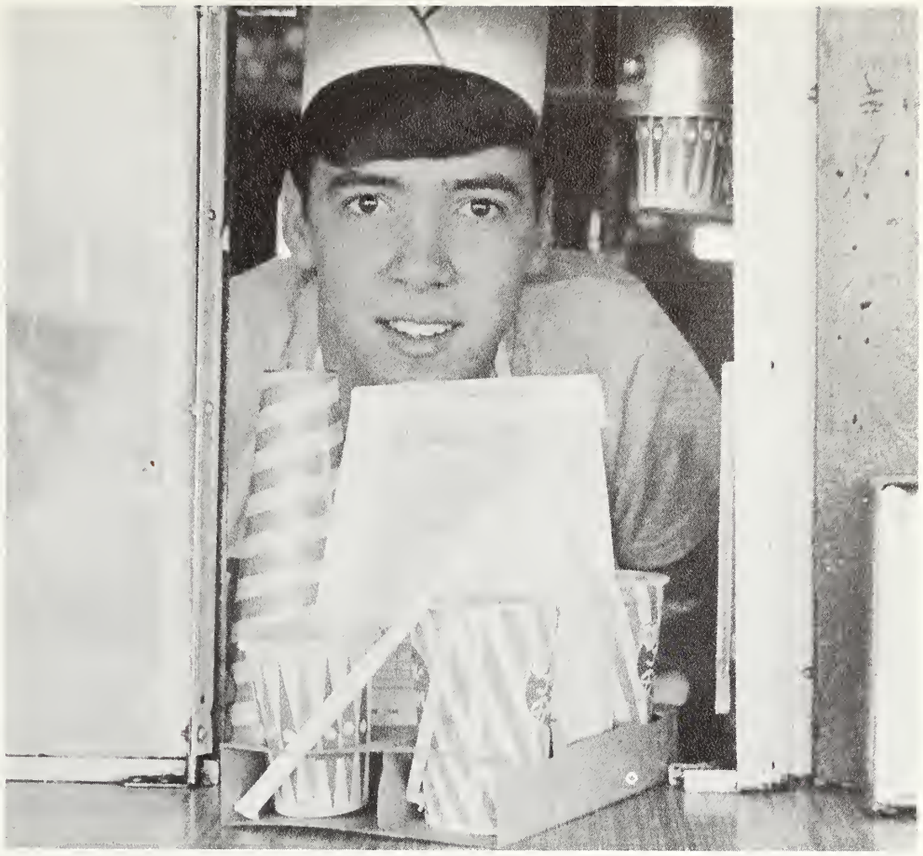
The students and faculty of Warren Central High School patronize those businesses that offer them reliable services and products. Students and teachers alike believe that reliability increases the popularity of a firm. A firm's reliability increases the reliability of the customers.

WESTERN ELECTRIC has been giving the Warren community reliable service for many years. They manufacture the parts which go together to make the telephones that intrigue girls and give dads headaches. They employ boys who have graduated from high school and college. Many of the Warren Central parents are employed by WESTERN ELECTRIC.

The LITTLE BROWN JUG is a frequented place by many of the students at Warren. It offers a variety of foods and has an atmosphere that appeals to the teens from every corner of the city.

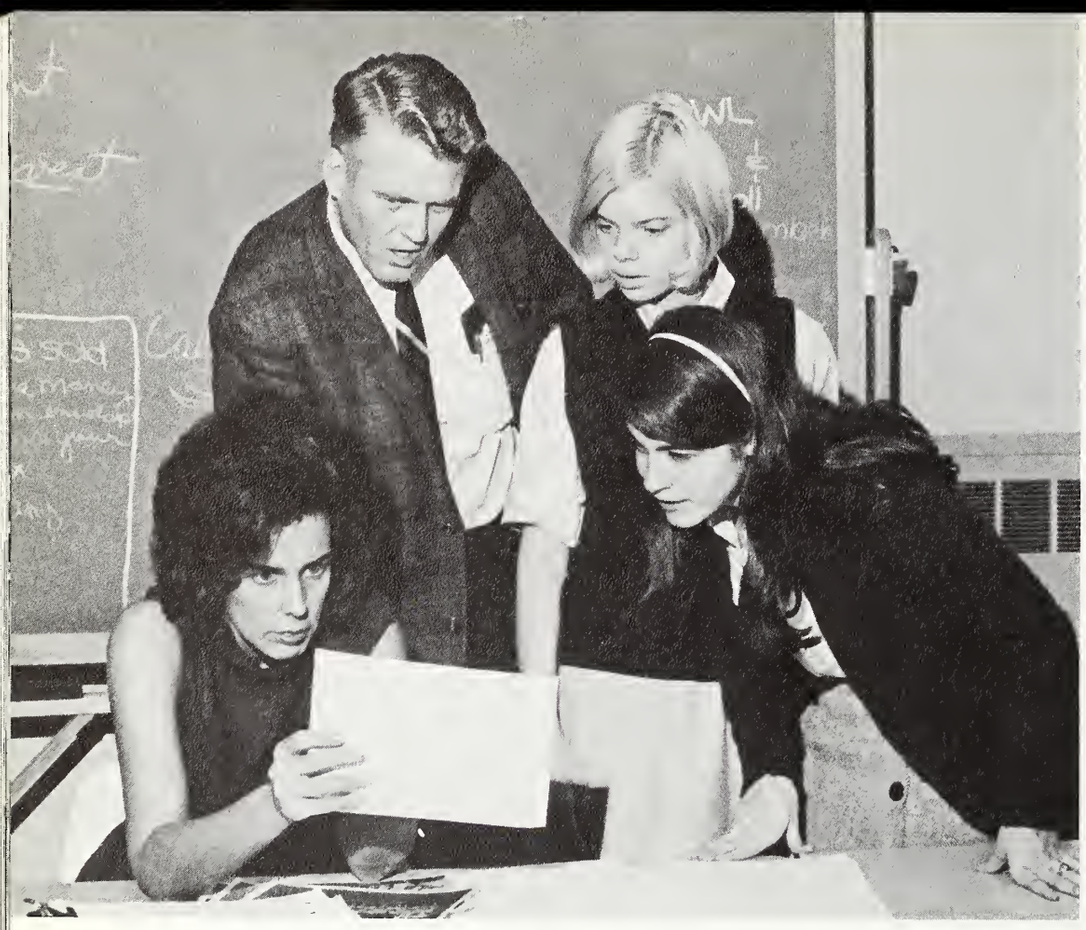
DARLENE EBERHARD'S SCHOOL OF DANCE gives girls a sense of poise, pleasure and confidence through dancing. The boys can learn the skill of muscle control. The studio offers lessons in tap, ballet, modern jazz, and acrobatics. Little girls are not the only ones who take dancing lessons. Dancing is a difficult exercise and requires concentration and practice, which the studio can develop.

When a firm can be trusted to deliver all that it promises, its customers remain happy and they return to buy again.

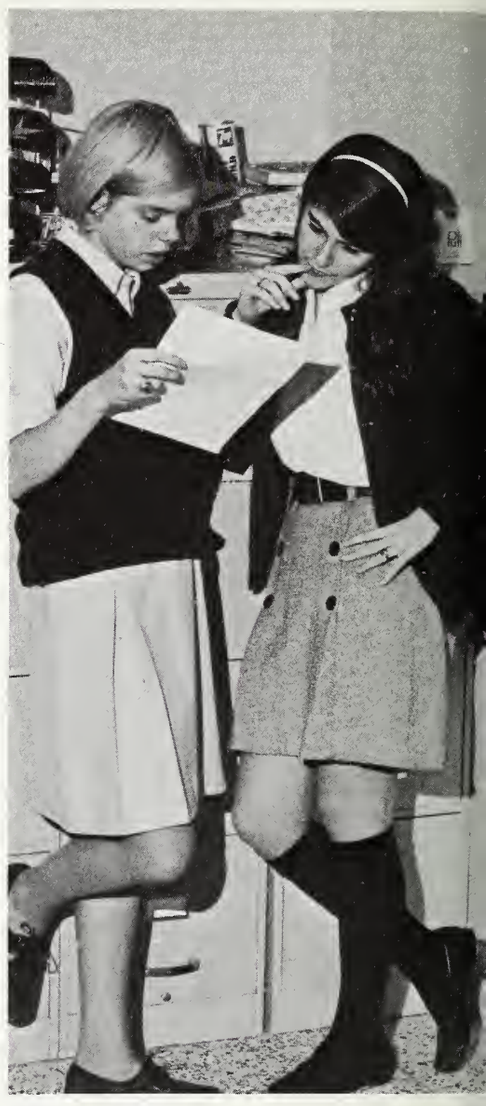


Jeff Holmes greets the customers of the LITTLE BROWN JUG with a cheery smile and delicious food. After games many of the Warrenites stop in at the LITTLE BROWN JUG. The root beer there is unbeatable anywhere. Stop in for a snack or a meal. 1520 N. Arlington, 357-0455.

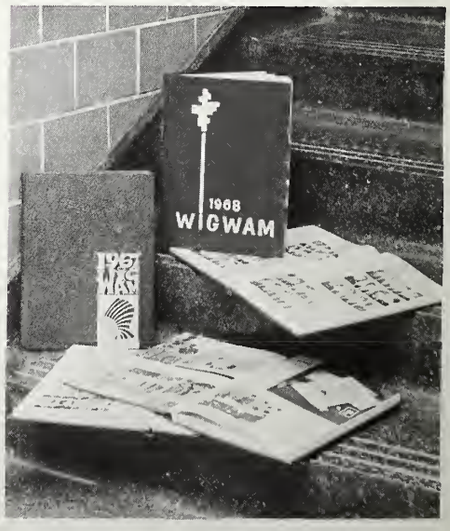
Rhonda and Randy Miller, brother and sister, form a dance team from DARLENE EBERHARD'S SCHOOL OF DANCE, 8950 East 10th, 898-2804.



The group looks a little alarmed as they find a mistake in a layout. Mrs. Nell Hawthorne points out the mistake to Mr. Dick Kennard, Kathy Berg, and Susie Van Treese. Things shaped up though and all went back to normal.



Kathy Berg and Susie VanTreese discuss the layouts for the yearbook. They worked many hours to prepare layouts for shipment.



Mr. Kennard discusses the proper way to crop a picture with Dave Broecker and Lee Collier. NEWSFOTO PUBLISHING COMPANY.

Economy Is A Value For Less Cost At WC

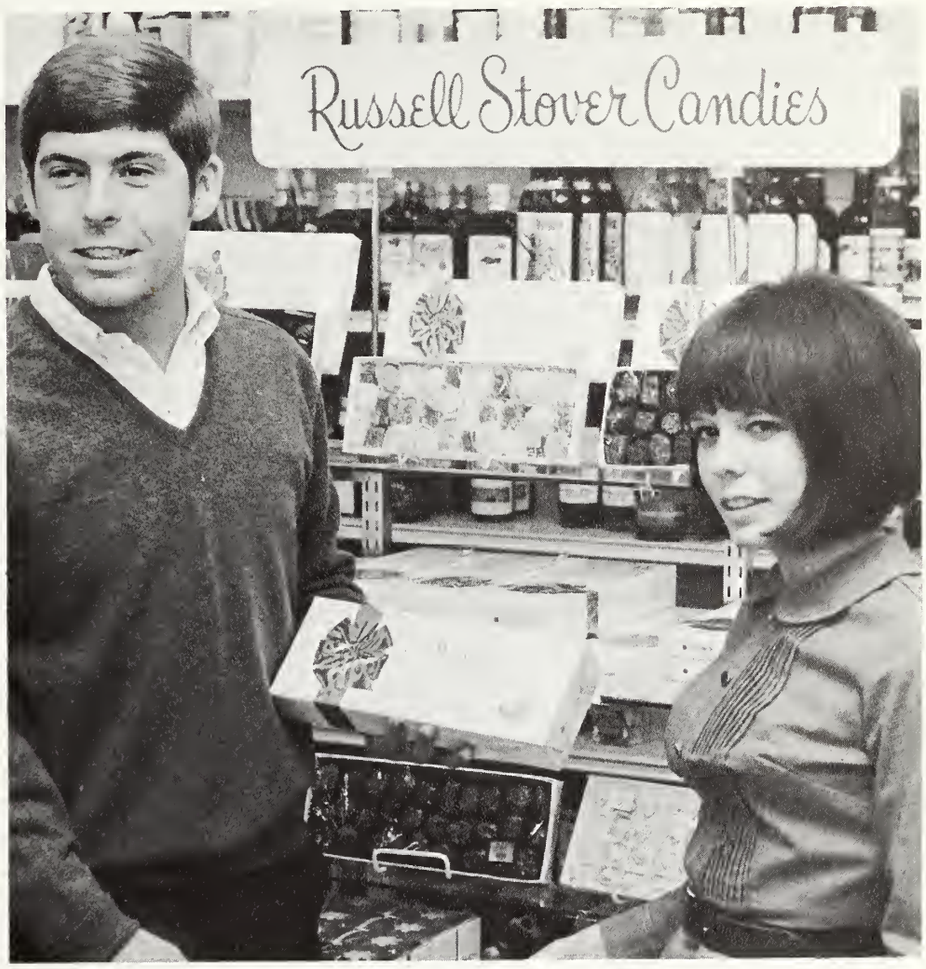
Economy in the buying of a product means a great deal to Warrenites. They are already faced with many expenses, so they try to save money as often as possible. However, they do not cut corners to buy cheap merchandise. They buy quality, but at a lower price.

The NEWSFOTO PUBLISHING COMPANY has printed our yearbook for the past two years, and will again print it this year. They send a representative to the school who helps in the selection of a color for the cover, a design, a theme, and offers suggestions as to what would be best suited for our purposes. The representative brings us up-to-date in the new developments in yearbook styles. Kathy and Susie worked with Mr. Dick Kennard to bring the students of Warren Central the best yearbook yet.

SHAW'S PHARMACY has a solution to everyone's problems. They carry cosmetic needs, comic books, stationery, candy, and drugs. They also have complete photography service which adds to their customer's convenience.

ZIEGY'S BARBECUE is a nice place to go to share good times. They have excellent barbecued foods, and hamburgers and french fries for the typical teenagers. ZIEGY'S has a pleasant atmosphere and good service.

An economical sense is not something one is born with, but something one develops. The students at Warren are learning quickly.



Jerry Hogan offers Mary Fowler a box of candy, but they seem more interested in Mr. Shaw who is standing on the side lines. SHAW'S PHARMACY has a variety of merchandise. They are also rousing school supporters. They take an active part at Warren. 8905 East 10th, 898-6978.

Karen Gunderman and Cathy Leonard discuss Student Council plans over cokes at ZIEGY'S BARBECUE, 2164 S. Emerson Ave., 356-6855.

Rings, Roses, Cokes, Dates, Signify Youth

Rings, roses, cokes, and dates do signify youth. These are the memories we will hold dear when we are the leaders. Though the rings may tarnish, the roses will wilt, the cokes taste flat, and the dates lose their fascination, the memories will remain pleasant and dear to our hearts.

HERFF JONES is the firm that works with each Warren Junior Council to aid in the selection of class rings. A wide variety is offered.

The ARLINGTON FLOWER SHOP will provide the flowers that a girl wears to her first or last prom. They have a beautiful selection from which to choose.

The DAIRY QUEEN will long be remembered by the seniors, who had to suffer through hot summer afternoons while the DAIRY QUEEN was remodeled because of the fire.

The SHERWOOD COUNTRY CLUB makes a nice place for informal get-togethers and that all important prom.

These are the important places that have provided experiences that all must indulge in before their youth escapes.

Above: Sharon Green gives Terry Woodburn the scoop, of ice cream that is. Terry and Sharon are only two of the many students who frequent the DAIRY QUEEN. The DAIRY QUEEN has become the meeting place for the teens of Warren. 9008 East Tenth, 898-5687.

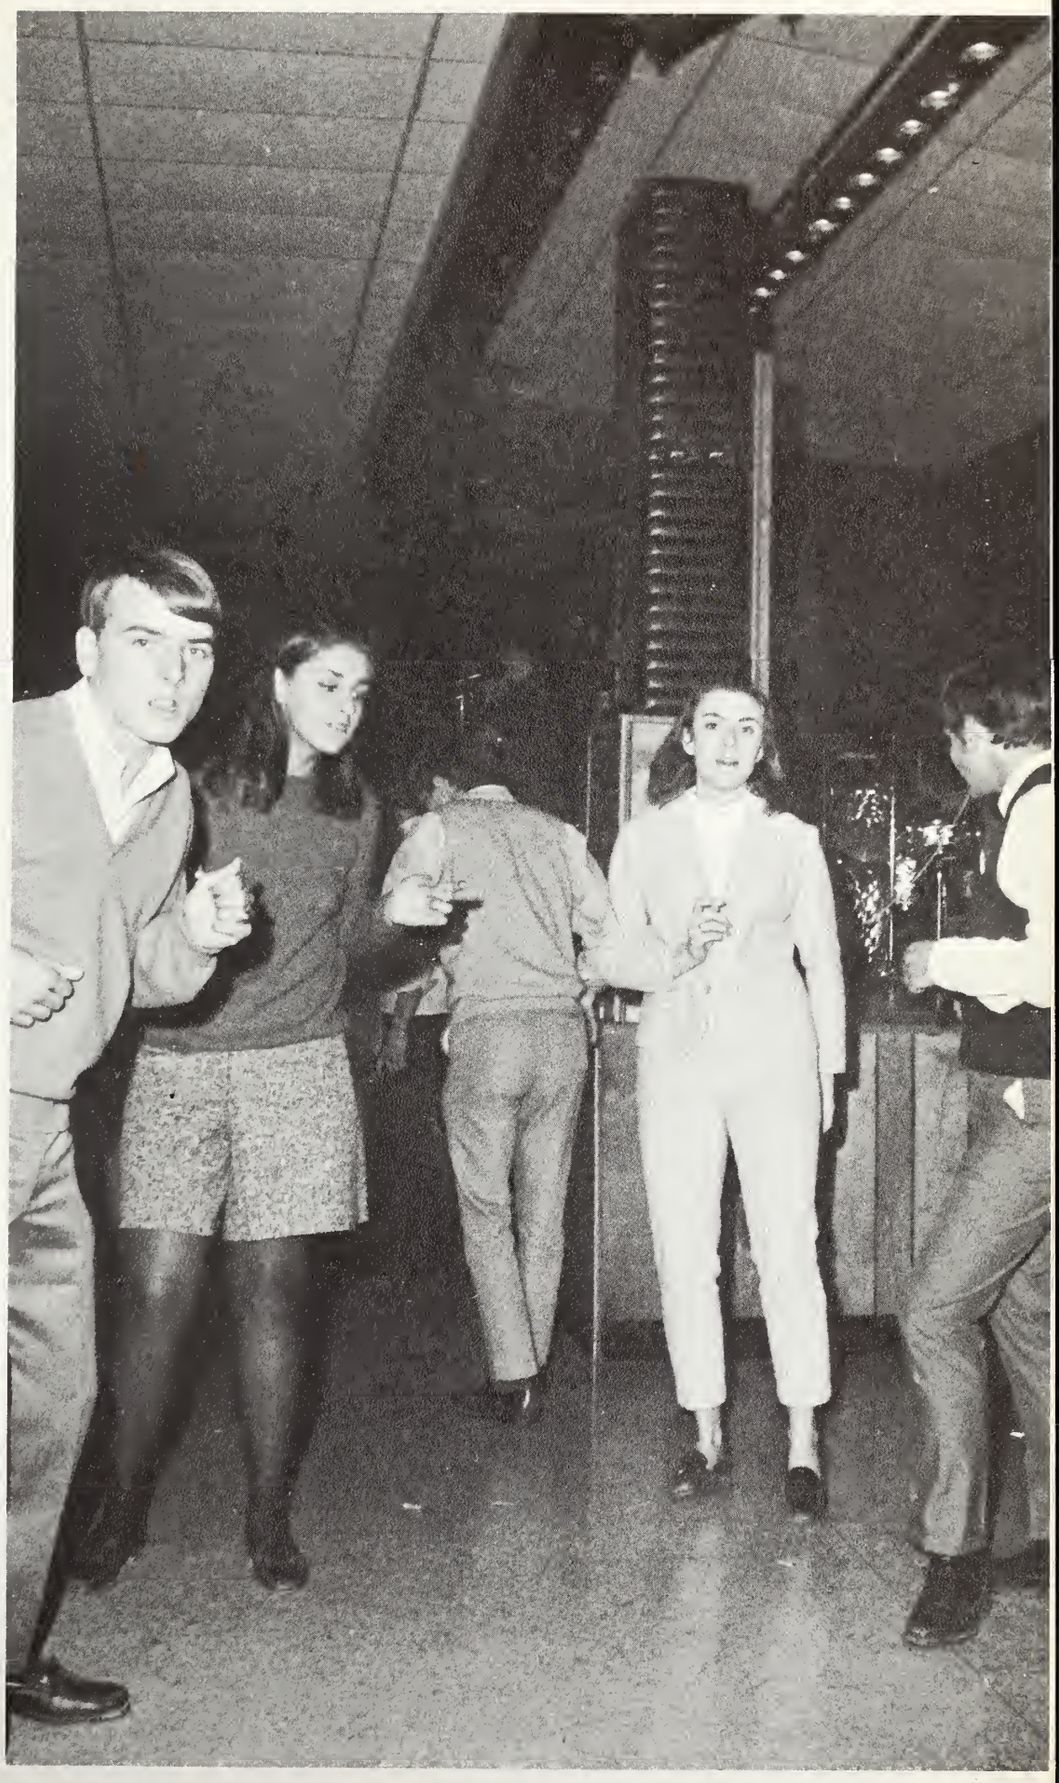
The rose has symbolized love and affection and beauty for centuries. The ARLINGTON FLOWER SHOP has the best. 1335 Arlington Avenue, 356-2489.



The SHERWOOD COUNTRY CLUB is the site of many teenage activities. They have dances on the weekends and holidays that please many of the Warrenites. Here, Mike Grubb, Vicki Majerick, Sandy McKane, and Mike Ashby do a little swinging. 6520 South Emerson, 783-0368.

Youth

Apprehensive of a world that will soon be theirs to lead.

Memories

Between two leather covers,

a year to be cherished

and not forgotten.

Youth

Remembering,

watching the grains of time fall,

unable to stop them.

Leaders

Moving reluctantly aside

to let in new leaders of a new generation;

these being wiser,

but not so wise

as those who will succeed them.

"The moving finger writes, and having writ, moves on . . . "—The Rubáiyát of Omar Khayyám

For Warren Central—1969, youth and accomplishment seemed to go hand in hand.

Besides achieving success in sectional championships, orchestra clinics, twirling contests, the National Merit competition, and Junior Miss Contest, Warrenites were the recipients of a yearbook with ideas that were a college innovation. With a thirteen member staff, eleven of whom had no previous Wigwam experience, production on the book created a yearbook of which Warrenites can be proud. Staff members however can not claim full credit for the finished product.

A very sincere and special thanks must go to our advisor, "Mrs. H.", whose ability to understand garbled thoughts and ideas, whether concerned with yearbook or not, proved her to be a great friend as well as advisor.

Yearbook representative, Mr. Dick Kennard who was always bombarded with questions whenever he appeared in "room" 008 must also be thanked for his time and patience in explaining various ideas.

Mr. Max Galloway, Senior photographer, also assisted with taking many pictures throughout the book. His efforts were deeply appreciated. Also appreciated was the work done by Indiana School Pictures who were in charge of taking the underclass pictures. Through service, their deadlines were always met punctually.

With the combined efforts of all these people, it made a good year seem better.
